Bar favors Kinder over Judge Calvo

Members of the Illinois State Bar Association in this judicial circuit on Tuesday recommended Norman H. Kinder Jr. for circuit judge and approved a "not recommended" report regarding Circuit Judge Horace L. Calvo.
Of 222 ballots sent to lawyers in Madison County, 97 responded, including 56 fellow Democrats. Another 14 who voted are Republicans and 27 said they are unaffiliated with either political party.
Kinder has voiced appreciation for the recommendation by fellow attorneys. Judge Calvo received a "recommended" rating from

$17 million clean air plan

By BILL WINTER

A precedent-setting agreement reached by Granite City Steel and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is expected to help this industrial community achieve a uniquely high level of air quality, it was disclosed Wednesday.
A $17,300,000 program outlined in the agreement is intended to remedy air pollution in the vicinity of both the coke oven facilities and the basic oxygen furnace plant, the Press-Record has learned. Signing of the pact may take place at a meeting today in Springfield.

If this does not prove possible, it is believed the signing is likely to occur next week. The document is being reviewed by attorneys and engineers for the Illinois attorney general, who has indicated he may rule on it next Monday, Feb. 23.

The settlement agreement with the Illinois EPA calls for that agency to file a future enforcement action meeting the terms of the agreement and conforming to the wishes of the Illinois Pollution Control Board. It is estimated that of the funds to be spent on design, manufacture and installation of air pollution controls, about 60 per cent relates to the coke oven area and 40 per cent to the basic oxygen furnace area of the local plant.

The task is expected to require at least two years to complete, and during that time the state indicates it will institute no air pollution enforcement actions against Granite City Steel.

Wording of the agreement points out that the plant does not admit violating the 1970 Illinois Environmental Protection Act or any of the regulations adopted under the law.

In the document, the EPA says monitoring statistics show local air to be in violation of state and federal air quality goals for particulates, potentially affecting area residents and property.

During the compliance program, the EPA promises to process promptly the company's applications for permits to install and operate the designated equipment and pollution control processes.

As an enforcement arm of the state, the EPA is empowered to negotiate with suspected polluters or file complaints with the PCB. The latter board has authority to impose fines.

In the event the PCB were to oppose the local agreement, the EPA has consented to join with Granite City Steel in fighting the PCB in the courts.

In addition to the basic agreement between Granite City Steel and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, the settlement embodies a stipulation to be sent to the state's Pollution Control Board.

The stipulation provides for a voluntary contribution of $75,000 in two installments to the state treasury and also a $250,000 bond by National Steel Corporation, owner of Granite City Steel, guaranteeing installation of equipment in the manner specified in the agreement.

The agreement presents the form of an order that would be issued by the PCB if it endorses the settlement.

There is believed to be no prior instance in the U. S. of such a contemplated enforcement case being settled prior to its filing. An advantage cited by the state and company in avoiding court action is the expected much faster rate of progress in installing the equipment and improving Quad-City area air quality.

National Steel and Granite City Steel officials met last June with EPA Director Richard H. Morgan said he has been Group doesn't want GC to be abortion capital

A local organization is deeply disturbed by an aggressive public relations campaign launched by the Hope Clinic for Women in seeking to attract clients from a wide geographic area.

The Granite City Right to Life group at a meeting Tuesday said it fears Granite City could become known as "the abortion capital of the Midwest."

The group, which is headed by Mrs. Debbie Magary, indicated it feels strongly about the subject and wishes to aggressively oppose what it sees as various clinics' efforts to picture their services as simple and uncontroverted.

They urge public distribution of the images of live infants, and also views of fetuses as they become increasingly more recognizable as babies during the nine months of pregnancy.

Alternatives to abortion exist at a number of recognized agencies, including the one that can be reached by telephone at 877-1184, it was asserted.

The Right to Life group decided Tuesday to continue its activities to "educate the public on the seriousness of abortion." Unanimous opposition to an "abortion capital" concept was voted.

Photo slide presentations already have been given at meetings by a number of Quad-City area civic organizations. The presentation is offered to groups of any size, with a question-and-answer session

Basic oxygen furnace plans

For its basic oxygen furnaces, Granite City Steel has reached agreement with the state environmental agency to install new particulate collection devices. The devices will be located at hot metal re-lading stations.

The plant also will provide draft to the electrostatic precipitators from the BOF vessels.

Plans call for the company to inject live steam into the evaporation chambers to pre-condition the gases.

It will increase the draft in order to curb fugitive emissions escaping from the top of the BOF vessels, and it will install a partial enclosure of the tap side of each vessel to further control fugitive emissions.

Granite City Steel already has installed additive chute closures in the basic oxygen furnace vessel hoods.

The company will install lance-hold opening closures in the BOF hoods. And it will eliminate the cascade water system in these vessel hoods. Schedule improvements also include installation of indirect cooling panels.

The goal is to increase the fan draft to the electrostatic precipitators without a carryover of water, which would short-circuit the precipitators.

Elements of the procedures outlined are regarded as representing a "first" in the nation in the field of BOF emission reduction.

BICENTENNIAL REVIEW by Nameoki Grade School students on the school's stage Tuesday night. Fifth and sixth grade students, dressed as pioneers, sing a Stephen Foster song, "Camptown Races." The series of sketches, coordinated by student

Long Chouteau history

(15th of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)

With U. S. 200th anniversary activities stimulating interest in the past, Mitchell and Chouteau Township residents can look back on a long and eventful history.

The unincorporated area known as Mitchell originally was called Mitchell Station.

Situated in the northeast portion of Section 33 and the northwest quarter of Section 34 in Madison County, it was laid out by the Chicago and Alton Railway Company.

The area contained two general stores, one of which was owned by the firm of Hines and Krueger, and the other by Henry Heinemann.

Henry Quinn owned a blacksmith shop and also kept a grocery store. A Rapp was proprietor of a meat market. D. E. Smalley was the physician and the postmaster was Robert Krueger.

The ground in Chouteau Township in and around Mitchell was bought from the U.S. government by the early settlers.

One known land owner, Philip Hawk, purchased a piece of ground from the Commissioner of General Land Office at Kaskaskia, Josiah

Tax impact on small businesses is cited

A spokesman for Illinois' small business men and women warned Tuesday that small companies would suffer most if the corporate income tax were increased in the state.

Speaking before a meeting of the Small Business Council of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce at the Holiday Inn East in Springfield, Frederick Rabenstein, owner of Rabenstein's Home Furnishings, Ottawa, and SBC chairman, lashed out at five pending legislative proposals.

The proposals would eliminate the current fixed 8 to 5 ratio between corporate and individual income tax rates in Illinois. Changing the ratio requires a constitutional amendment, approved by voters.

Attending Tuesday's session was Chester L. Baker, president of the Tri-City Printing Co. and a member of the statewide Small Business Council.

Charging that many organizations in the state are gearing up for a substantial legislative effort this spring to lift the tax ceiling on business, Rabenstein said unlimited tax increases on business would produce disastrous effects on profits, investment plans and the creation of new jobs.

"For many small businesses, it's simply a question of survival," Rabenstein said.

"In the past few months alone, unemployment insurance tax rate increases of 100 per cent and workmen's compensation premium increases of 50 per cent were piled on business — with more increases projected in the future. All this and an income tax hike, too?"

Of the nearly 200,000 businesses in the state, 154,899 are incorporated, Rabenstein said. "Illinois has a total of 116,335 small businesses, most of which pay all — or nearly all — of their state income tax in Illinois."

Rabenstein explained why he feels small companies would suffer most under a tax increase: "When the average guy thinks 'corporation,' he thinks giant. He's wrong. The corner drug store, the plumber, the local hardware store and the best dress shop are probably incorporated."

"The present protection against tax discrimination, embodied in the 8 to 5 ratio limitation, is especially important to the small business, generally operating within the Illinois market and paying 100 per cent of its state income tax to Illinois."

"This 'small,' operating solely in Illinois, can't 'average out' in other states. He lives and votes here, and so do most of his customers."

"And while many businesses would be forced to move out of Illinois if the tax lid is lifted, the small guy can't move. He would retrench or go broke, or be forced to pass his higher costs on to the customer."

"Large corporations move out of state, not only jobs, personal income and tax base are lost, but also the small businesses dependent on the income, services and spendable income produced by the large employer."

"So the present limitation helps protect all Illinois taxpayers from the consequences of a tax increase — including higher prices, reduced purchasing power and loss of jobs. As the price of government keeps bounding higher, the public keeps paying the bill."

Rabenstein urged businessmen to contact their state legislators, asking them to vote against measures to eliminate the 8 to 5 limitation on state income taxes, and to exercise fiscal responsibility and "hold the lid" on state spending, preventing the need for any tax increase.

"The cost squeeze, especially in this critical time of economic recovery, is already overburdening the small business. We need tax cuts, not increases," he concluded.

Kinder and Judge Calvo foes in primary election

Horace L. Calvo, 48, a circuit judge of the Third Judicial Circuit since being appointed Sept. 10, 1975, is seeking the Democratic nomination March 16 to run for a full six-year term as judge.

If successful in this year's party ballot procedure, he would seek subsequent terms on a non-partisan basis under the existing Illinois court election procedure.

An active lawyer until being named a judge, he was a Democratic member of the Illinois General Assembly from this district the 50th, at the time of the appointment by the Illinois Supreme Court.

The appointment was effective Sept. 22, and he resigned as a legislator on Sept. 21. Calvo was initially assigned to civil cases in the Quad-City area.

He succeeded Judge Fred P. Schuman, who retired. Calvo was recommended for the Third Circuit position by Supreme Court Justice Joseph Goldenhersh of Belleville.

Calvo's affiliations include the American Trial Lawyers and Illinois Trial Lawyers groups. As a state representative, he served on the Judiciary Committee.

Admitted to the practice of law on May 24, 1956, he began his law practice on Sept. 1 of that year in Granite City and operated his own law office beginning in February 1961.

He resides at 24 Oaklawn Drive, Granite City, with his wife, Josephine. They are the parents of four children, ranging in age from 23 to 27 years.

At the time he was being considered for the $42,500 judicial position, he said he regarded it as "an advancement in my career."

As a legislator, he sought passage of a number of new laws and also encouraged regular contact between area residents and state agencies and departments.

Originally elected to the Illinois House of Representatives effective in 1969, he won a fourth two-year term in November 1974.

Before becoming a judge,

JUDGE HORACE L. CALVO

Calvo was an attorney with offices at 1550 State St. He was engaged in the practice of law in Granite City for over 10 years. He has been active in civic issues, having aided youth and sports programs of the Granite City Park District, and has been vice-president of the Human Relations Commission.

He served with Attorney General William G. Clark for eight years, 1960-68, as a special assistant attorney general of Illinois.

Calvo for many years was attorney for District 34 of the United Steelworkers of America.

He has been active in the Tri-City Bar Association, having served as a member of the American Bar Association and the American Trial Lawyers' Association.

A World War II veteran, Judge Calvo has been a member of the American Legion Post 113, Armvets Post 51, Elks Lodge 1063 and Knights of Columbus Tri-Cities Council 1098.

He served in the offices of secretary, vice-president and president of the Granite City Democratic Club in past years.

Norman H. Kinder Jr., 40, a Granite City attorney, is a candidate for circuit judge of the Third Judicial Circuit (Madison County).

An independent Democrat, he comments that "I think judges should be politically independent and chosen by the people."

"My experience and knowledge, I feel, make me well qualified to serve the people of Madison County in the office of circuit judge."

The position currently is filled by Horace Calvo, also of Granite City.

Kinder was reared in Madison and graduated from Madison High School in 1954, after which he entered St. Louis University. There he received a bachelor's degree in political science and his law degree in 1963.

Kinder, upon graduation from college, served for one year as a law clerk for Judge Omer Poos in the United States District Court at Springfield. He then was associated with the law firm of Pope and Driemeyer in East St. Louis.

In January 1966, he became a partner in the law firm of Chapman, Strawn and Kinder in the United States District Court at Springfield. He then was associated with the law firm of Pope and Driemeyer in East St. Louis.

He then joined his brother, William Kinder, and Leon Scroggins to establish the firm of Kinder, Scroggins and Kinder, with which he currently is associated.

Kinder is a former president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and currently a member of the Judiciary Committee of the Madison County Bar Association.

Other professional memberships include Illinois Bar Association, American Bar Association, Illinois Trial Lawyers' Association and the American Trial Lawyers' Association.

Active in Quad-City civic affairs, Kinder is a member of the executive board of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts, and on the council's exploring committee. He is a member of the advisory committee to the Granite City School District and a member of

NORMAN H. KINDER

Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Kinder formerly was Eastern Seal Society chairman and active with the Parents Committee for Special Education.

He, his wife, Norma, and son, Norman, are active in the St. James United Methodist Church, where he formerly served as finance chairman and member of the church's administrative board.

Kinder currently is president of the Granite City Breakfast Kiwanis Club.

While attending college and law school, the lifelong Madison County resident worked for the Union Starch and Refining Co., Laclede Steel Co. and Continental Can Co.

During the primary campaign, Kinder is stressing that he believes in "a court system free from political influence and child abuse, drugs, marital, criminal law, particularly as applied to drug sellers and criminals using weapons; and efficient administration of justice."

Heads, "I will work to make the court system more responsive to citizens' needs."

"I also believe in a Democratic party that reflects the will of all Democrats. Candidates should not be handicapped by a few politicians."

Bell seeking new hearing in rate case

Illinois Bell Telephone has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield an application for a reduction of its request for a general rate increase. The application alleges that the commission overruled its decision on increased rates of only $70 million.

Some of the specific errors alleged by Illinois Bell in the application:

The commission erred in ordering a plan for directory assistance charging which was radically different from the one discussed during 11 months of hearings, and revealed for the first time in the order.

The company said the commission's plan "would substantially increase directory assistance costs by requiring equipment additions and much greater operator work time to enable operators to determine, call-by-call, which calls are to be charged and which are not chargeable."

Revenues from rates under the commission's plan would be about one-third of those under the plan that was proposed, the application pointed out.

In addition, the company said, "the commission ordered 30 cent credit per line, never raised by the commission or any party during the hearings, would result in revenue losses in excess of $14 million annually."

The commission's order "erroneously overstated the revenues which will result from the rates therein approved and, therefore, the rates will not produce the revenue authorized in the order."

The company said that the commission took no account of the reduction in customer demand — curtailment — due to the increases in multi-message unit charges, toll schedules and service order charges.

"The evidence is uncontroverted that some curtailment will occur," the company said. "However, contrary to the manifest weight of the evidence, the order makes no provision for reduced revenues due to curtailment."

The commission erred in concluding that a rate of return of 8.75 per cent is "fair, just and reasonable. The overwhelming weight of the evidence shows that the return which should be allowed must be substantially higher."

The application pointed out that all the intervenors in the company's rate case except one who treat the rate of return issue — such as the city of Chicago and the General Services Administration — proposed a rate of return of not less than 8.97 per cent and up to 9.5 per cent. "The manifest weight of the evidence in the record shows that 9.5 to 10 per cent is the range of a proper rate of return on the company's property," the company said.

Illinois Bell had pointed out on Feb. 5, that the public's telephone service may suffer in the long run if the ICC's rate decision is permitted to stand.

Building Services 98, Venice near agreement in rate case

Negotiations on a two-year working agreement between the Venice Board of Education and Building Services Employees Local 98 virtually are concluded and ratification of the contract can be expected in the next week or two, the Venice School Board was informed at its meeting Monday evening.

The contract covers the current school year and 1976-77. Negotiating sessions have been continuing for several months, Supl. of Schools Robert N. Vickers said.

Other business transacted at the abbreviated session was approval to file the vocational-education plan for Venice High School and to pay half the expense toward purchasing three trophy display cases, costing $100 each, with the Venice Boosters Club.

Vickers said application has been filed for Title VII funds. A total of $220,813 is being sought to fund the basic Title VII program, an increase of $14,813 over the current year's funding, and $84,859 for a pilot program, an increase of $33,939 over the 1975-76 appropriation.

Bolt machine stolen from rail spur

An Illinois Terminal Railroad track bolt machine, weighing 1,500 pounds, was reported stolen at 9 a.m. Tuesday from a spur track located near the rear of Reeves Red-D-Mix Concrete, Inc., off Highway 3.

Railroad security officers said the machine, which is painted yellow, was covered with a tarp and chained to the spur rail.

The thieves apparently cut the chain with bolt cutters, pushed the equipment along the spur to the main rail then continued pushing it between 50 to 75 feet along the track to a point where a gully separates Route 3 and the railroad line.

It was theorized the machine was tipped from the track into the gully and a large truck was driven into the depressed area from the highway to haul the equipment away.

Authorities, so far, are unable to determine how the track bolt machine was transferred through the couplings from the spur to the main rail, it was reported. Value of the equipment was not listed.

New businesses licensed

The Venice City Council Tuesday night approved a new business license application.

The U. S. Graphic Supply Co. manufacturing representatives for printing supplies, namely light chemicals, was granted a license to open an office at 1226 Bissell St. John W. Mead of Crestwood, Mo., and Frank J. Wasicki of Collinsville, were listed as co-owners on the business application.

James O. Hanna, 600 Washington St. was authorized to operate the J. & M. Pest Control Co. from his home.

Arthur Kettenhofen, resident engineer on the underpass and Broadway relocation project, reported to the council that the contractor's activities during the past two weeks have consisted of placing approximately 150 square feet of median concrete and 70 linear feet of curb and gutter. This was accomplished during part of two days, he said.

According to the engineer, "The temperature has been moderate the past week, but the contractor has not done much. He has had one man working this week, and the traffic lanes on Broadway at Second street were reopened."

"We will meet with the contractor and our engineer

Thursday morning to discuss the contractor's work. This is actually working for the state and there is not much more we can do but make recommendations. The start date to begin full scale work again is May 1," Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold said.

Third Ward Alderman John Ervin raised a question on a bill for $216 for two dozen fluorescent light bulbs. "I would like to know how these bulbs are getting broke? If these groups using our firing range are using the bulbs, they should pay for them."

Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley explained that many of the lights on the range and in other parts of the building had not been replaced for some time, but that he was not sure who ordered the two dozen bulbs.

Mayor Ebersold said, "Nothing is to be bought without a purchase order being approved first by the city comptroller. This applies to all city purchases. The comptroller and the department heads need to make this clear to everyone working for the city."

"Things have been going well in this area, but some people are forgetting the council's order on purchasing and that is just as I have stated; a purchase order must be approved by the comptroller and I do not want any one to forget that. Money is tight and we need to watch every penny."

On a motion by Fourth Ward Alderman Oscar King $75 was approved for the first year budget of the Madison County Information Line. This is a service to aid people with a wide variety of problems such as depression, suicide attempts, child abuse, drugs, marital, pregnancy and psychotic problems.

Mrs. Debbie Boza, vice-president and treasurer of the organization met with the council to explain the program which will be based in Edwardsville.

"I think that one of the city council members should serve on the board of directors if at all possible, and we will make that our request known in a letter," Ebersold said.

"I am very happy that we are still getting letters of appreciation from our citizens for our delivering Christmas baskets. We have received over 25 letters so far and they are appreciated," the Mayor noted.

At the request of a citizen following council discussion the Mayor instructed Harry Hartman city attorney to meet with the aldermanic committee concerned and begin planning so that a zoning ordinance can be adopted.

Mayor Ebersold then instructed Chief Brawley to issue tickets if warnings are not enough to keep people from riding motorcycles and bicycles on the levee and the side of the levee.

The U. S. Corp of Engineers has requested police enforcement on trespassing according to the Mayor as the bikes do much damage to the levees.

While attempting to separate the women, Karen D. Williams, 25, of 2200 W. 20th St., allegedly interfered with the officers and was charged with disorderly conduct.

All three were released on payment of $25 cash bond.

Brice and Deputy Director Jeffrey R. Diver to seek a basis on which such an agreement could be developed.

Earlier last year, anti-pollution officials seized pollution test records from the company's offices, having obtained a search warrant alleging lack of cooperation. Granite City Steel cited evidence of its cooperation and the Madison County circuit court ordered the records returned to the plant.

Variances for continued preparation of air quality controls by the company were halted by the state after September 1974.

The improvements that were under way at that time were based on an earlier agreement, approved in 1972, under which the company established a $150,000 scholarship fund for environmental education at the University of Illinois.

The 1972 pact stemmed from an air pollution case originally filed in 1970. National Steel quired the plant in 1971.

Yesterday's announcement from Springfield noted that the Illinois EPA also assisted in the development of a three-way agreement in November 1975—along with Granite City Steel and the United States Environmental Protection Agency—regarding water discharged into Horseshoe Lake.

The U. S. EPA in January 1975 issued a National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permit authorizing and regulating the company's treatment and release of water into the local lake.

A multi-million-dollar water treatment system is being constructed by the company as a result of issuance of the permit.

approached by residents and some officials since Mrs. Giffin's death, and said he is attempting ways to finance a program to make each apartment more secure.

Funds are being sought for solid doors with peep holes, exterior lights at each doorway, more secure windows, and other improvements. He said he does not know if such funds are available, but said every effort is being made to attempt to finance the security program.

Morgan said he did not feel the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), which provides grants for the housing authority, would be likely to approve a grant for a security program in a city this size, served by an excellent police department.

He commented, "I am sure each family would like to have its own policeman to follow them when they go to the store or anywhere, but it is just not feasible."

Morgan noted Kirkpatrick Homes is a community of 1,500 persons, occupying 49 buildings. "It would take a lot of policemen full-time to provide any increased measure of security here. A minimum would be one policeman at each end and one in the middle, three shifts a day, or nine full-time officers."

He questioned how much authority private security guards would have. "I don't even know if they would have authority to carry guns," he said.

He said the service provided by security guards would be the same that the residents themselves could provide, that of alerting Granite City police when there are signs of trouble or suspicious activities.

He said those wishing greater security need to become more involved in alerting the police to problems.

Morgan encouraged the residents to enroll in the "block watchmen" program sponsored by the Granite City Police Department and the Tri-County Area Chamber of Commerce to learn better how they can aid the police in providing more security in Kirkpatrick Homes.

He said public involvement has been a problem in holding down crime in the project area. He recalled an attempt by the housing authority about two years ago to bring the residents, police and city officials together so they could cooperate better in halting crime.

The first meeting was attended by the mayor, chief of police, chairman of the city's Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, an alderman of the ward, Morgan and other officials.

Morgan said circulars were sent to each resident a week in advance and there were posters and reminders all over the housing project all week long. A total of 22 residents attended. In the hope of building attendance by making it a weekly event, a second meeting was held the following week. Attendance increased to 38. But a week later, when a juvenile officer came to speak, only 10 people attended.

"The next week we had trouble getting five to attend, so we dropped the program," Morgan related.

He said there have been problems recently in Kirkpatrick Homes, and that many of the problems have been caused by persons who do not live at Kirkpatrick.

The young man accused of murdering Mrs. Giffin gave a Kirkpatrick Homes address where he was staying with a relative, but his family actually has not lived in Kirkpatrick Homes since last summer, it was asserted.

He said many young men who are arrested give addresses in Kirkpatrick when they do not actually live there.

"They think police will not check their address if they give one in Kirkpatrick Homes, but their real addresses might be checked out if they gave another address," Morgan commented, adding, "In many ways, we are getting a 'bum rap' by many who try to link their crimes with Kirkpatrick Homes."

Nursing home plan advanced

A resolution that would proposed new 122-bed nursing home was approved by the City Council Monday night.

At the same time the council referred to the City Plan

Commission a petition for annexation of the 10-acre site on which the nursing home is proposed for construction if sanitary sewage and drainage problems can be worked out. The action followed discussion in which Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said he would not be in favor of the project unless sewer and drainage matters are resolved to his satisfaction.

Construction of the nursing home has been proposed by Jerry Maeras, Madison, as developer, on a site on Rockingbird Lane between Steelcrest addition and the Alton & Southern Tracks.

The resolution first was presented to the council in its Feb. 2 meeting, but a vote was deferred at that time on a motion by Whitmer who said he was uncertain that present sanitary sewage facilities are adequate to handle sewage from the proposed nursing home.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer told the council that it is proposed to connect the nursing home with the Lexington subdivision sewer line, and that he is certain that line will prove adequate.

Portell said sewer department workers are now attempting to break through a sewer line near a break on Faith Avenue and are experiencing difficulties in using grouting equipment because of the condition of sewer lines.

"Until we go further with the work, I just don't know what the condition of the lines really is," Portell said.

Earlier, Portell said he did not believe the Lexington subdivision sewer would handle the additional sewage from the nursing home facility.

Brewer explained that the resolution presented for a vote Monday night will permit the engineering department to proceed with inspections and steps to improve the sewer, and does not commit the council to final approval of the project.

The annexation procedure is subject to approval by the City Plan Commission which is expected to conduct a hearing on the request soon.

Whitmer said he would vote in favor of the resolution since the council would make a final ruling later. He said he favored the nursing home project, but would insist that existing sewers be able to handle the additional load.

Mrs. Kinney died Feb. 15 at Fayette County Hospital in Vandalia. She had lived in that community the past four years, having previously resided for many years in Carlyle. She was married to Mrs. Isaak.

Beside Mrs. Isaak, also surviving are a son, Guy L. Kinney Jr. of Olathe, Kan.; another daughter, Mrs. Betty Wilkerson of Vandalia; 14 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Kinney's husband, Guy L., died June 5, 1967. Burial was at the Carlyle Cemetery.

Tax problems worry Venice park officials

Opposition by rural landowners to valuation increases in most rural townships by Madison County officials in an effort to comply with a new state law requiring an overall county assessment ratio of 33.1 percent be established, has caused concern among Venice Park Board members, according to Peter Ponce, park board president, at a meeting of park commissioners last week.

County assessment officials have approved substantial increases on the valuation of county farmland and have met organized opposition by rural landowners in the form of a class suit filed in circuit court at Edwardsville. The protests may delay tax collections which provide revenue for tax bodies such as cities, school districts, and park districts.

"Our fiscal year ends in April," Ponce said, "and with revenues coming in, more than likely we'll be forced to borrow money to operate our summer programs here."

The Venice Park District still has an estimated $7,000 in tax money due from last year. Ponce said the district will need about $90,000 to operate during the 1976-77 fiscal year.

Report 2 fires 'suspicious'

There were two fires Monday and Tuesday at a home at 2027 Lee Ave., both of suspicious origin.

Firemen extinguished the flames before they damaged the garage.

Purse, $800 taken by thief

A teenager grabbed the purse of Margaret Corrie, 2315 Nameoki Road, at Edwards Street and Ridgeville Avenue at 12:10 p.m. Wednesday, escaping with $800 or more in cash and change, police were told.

The victim said she was waiting for a bus when a youth in his late teens approached, knocked her down and ran away with her black leather purse.

She said he ran south on Ridgeville Avenue and then in an alley toward Henry Street. He ran past a white over blue auto, slamming the passenger door shut, but the victim could not see whether it entered the car.

The auto, with a young woman driving and a male passenger, drove around the area and then drove toward Nameoki Road where the victim lost sight of it.

The thief was described as about 5 feet, 11 inches tall, thin, having blond, curly hair and wearing a blue jacket.

HARLEY G. DAVIS

THOMAS HOLLOWAY
Assistant Cashier

Edwardsville; Nicholas P. Veeder, director and member executive committee, National Steel Corporation, and Melvin C. Wilmshurst, president.

Chairman Lichtenberger commented on operations for the past year.

He told the shareholders: "From the standpoint of growth, 1975 was a surprisingly good year. In spite of the recessionary influences of the first six months and our local area's slower than average recovery in the last half, total assets of your bank increased in excess of $4,000,000 or 6.4 per cent."

"Gross income reached an all time high of $4,600,000. An increase of 5.5 per cent. Expenses however, increased more rapidly than gross income. Interest rates, especially in the short term area, dropped substantially during the year. We have, however, held the line on rates paid to our savers. Interest paid during 1975 totaled $2,200,000, an increase of 7.3 per cent over 1974. Other operating expenses also increased 8.65 per cent, resulting in a decrease in net earnings of 7.25 per cent."

"During the past decade a new concept as to the function of banks has been adopted by far too many financial institutions. Account has been placed on expansion of services, some far removed from banking. Many banks opened branches overseas, some dealing heavily in foreign exchange operations. Formation of bank holding companies became the vogue, permitting the holding company or parent to travel even further outside the primary banking field."

"Real estate investment trusts were formed under the sponsorship of banks or bank holding companies, and investments in land development projects were financed by the sponsoring banks. Due in part to lack of judgment and knowledge in this particular area and partly to the severe recession which started in 1974, many of the real estate investment trusts, or REITs, as they are commonly called, encountered financial difficulties and were unable to complete their projects. This resulted in defaults on their obligations and losses to their creditors."

"Another adverse factor affecting a good many banks has been the New York City and state problem. Unwise fiscal practices engaged in over a period of years finally culminated in a bailout by the federal government in order to avert bankruptcy by our nation's largest municipality."

"There is probably some justification for the heavy commitment of New York City banks in the obligations of their city and state. Local political pressures, a sense of duty, fear of the resulting problems which bankruptcy would have brought are but a few."

"Far too many other banks, located outside the city and state, also invested heavily in New York obligations. They were apparently attracted by the high rates being offered, not realizing or ignoring the fact that the high rates were necessary because of the steadily declining credit standing of the city."

"I am happy to report to you

THEODORE CONRAD
Vice-President and Director of Data Processing that out of a bond investment portfolio of $21,000,000 your bank holds only $75,000 in New York City bonds. These mature on Jan. 1, 1977 and while it may be necessary to extend their maturity, no eventual loss is anticipated. We also hold $285,000 in obligations of the New York State Dormitory Authority which have been called for payment on July 1, 1982.

"Funds to pay the bonds on that date are held in escrow by one of the major New York banks and are invested in federal government agency obligations. Your bank has never invested in or participated in any real estate investment venture."

"Your management has a feeling of deep responsibility to our depositors and shareholders and will continue to operate your bank according to sound banking principles to safeguard the funds entrusted to us by our depositors and likewise your investment. First Bank has always played a leading role in financing the development of our area along sound lines and will continue to do so."

"In closing, I would like to pay tribute to our loyal and dedicated group of employees, I am proud to say, my co-workers, who are the reason more and more people are saying, 'I like to do business with First Bank.'"

School board buys pump for Mitchell School sewer work

A bid of $3,342 for a Well Pump to be installed at the sewage treatment plant at Mitchell School, submitted by Russell J. Smith Inc., St. Louis wholesale distributor, was accepted by the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night.

Bids submitted at the Feb. 3 meeting for material and installation were rejected by the board. New specifications requested a price for the pump only, and for installation.

Other bids received were from Repp the Rep., Inc. for a Peabody Barnes pump for $3,700; Triangle Heating Co. for a well pump at $4,353 with labor bid of $8,728; Kelly Plumbing Co., for Empocore pump, $5,101, and labor of $6,410; Grove Plumbing, $4,438 for Well pump and $5,638 for labor. The base bids on labor include materials needed for installation of equipment.

Board members agreed to extend for one year the retirement of Miss Selma Nelson, counselor at South High School, to allow the administrators to re-evaluate departmental structure, instituted by Miss Nelson in her current program.

The request for a leave of absence by Mrs. Brenda Keene, lower primary teacher at Emerson School, also was granted.

The board accepted the list of election judges and alternates for the school board election in April, and a substitute list of cafeteria workers.

Other contracts awarded at the meeting were those for building trades supplies for a total cost of $700 from Crane; computer paper supplies from Bernadette Business forms, $594, and Data Documents Inc., $218; electrical supplies for building trades house, from Crescent Electric Supply, Illinois Electric Works, Sifers Electric, Glaco Electric and Harry's Paint Store for a total cost of $462; and diplomas for both high schools, featuring a Bicentennial emblem on the cover and school picture on the lining of the cover, from the Horff-Jones Co. for this year only.

Cost of diplomas with the special emblem will cost $1.85 each this year and will revert to $1.55 for North and $1.47 for South for ensuing years.

Joseph Fedora, director of athletics senior and junior high boys' physical education, requested board action and a positive plan to restrict the public from using the football field at South High School. He said with unauthorized use of the field, the turf is in very poor condition although it has been seeded, fertilized and rolled several times this season.

Fedora suggested that three rows of barbed wire be installed at the top of the present fence and possibly some type of police action for those who continue to play on the field, which has been posted to keep out intruders.

The board agreed to study the situation and tabled any action until the next meeting.

Requests for use of facilities were granted to Frohardt PTA on March 5; Masquers, Inc. on June 11, 12, 18 and 19; Happy Strings Croatian Junior Tamburitzans on March 14; McKinley PTA on March 12; Madison County Clerk for instructing election judges on March 13; Cub Pack 4 on Feb. 24; Cahokia Chapter of the Illinois Association of the Deaf on April 9 and Cub Pack 12 on Feb. 25.

The board granted permission to William Schmitt and Walt Whitaker to attend the National Wrestling Coaches Association in Tucson, Ariz., on March 10-12 and to Gordon Galbreath to attend the Association of Educational Communications and Technology convention in Anaheim, Calif., on March 28 to April 2.

It was reported two children have been placed in private schools for programs that are not available within the Granite City District. One is attending the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kan., and one child is at the Judevine Center, Fairview Heights.

Tuition for both will be $2,500 plus $500 for the summer session with the district paying up to the per capita cost of $1,397 for the regular school year and $100 for summer session.

The State of Illinois will pay the remaining amount, plus ADA to Community Unit School District 9.

Three Ways To Say "Charge It"

Welfare chaos worse under Walker leadership—Howlett

"In only three years, Gov. Daniel Walker has firmly established himself as the worst manager of state government in Illinois history," Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, charged during the weekend. Howlett is running for governor in the March 16 Democratic primary. He issued the first of a "series of statements" alleging waste of taxpayers' money.

"Public aid is an outstanding example of the disorganization, drift and failure to meet legal responsibility which is spread throughout the administration," Howlett said.

"In a single program—Aid to Families with Dependent Children—$147 million was erroneously spent during the last fiscal year, according to federal figures," said Howlett. "More than half of this, $74.9 million, was state funds."

"Based on these findings, it is likely that more than $400 million of state and federal tax money has been erroneously spent on this one program alone since Dan Walker became governor."

"The Public Aid Department is in chaos. Staff morale is low. 'Red tape' impairs service to the needy."

"Under Gov. Walker's administration, public aid has increased nearly $600 million in three years to almost $2 billion."

"Federal regulations require that no more than three per cent of program participants may be ineligible," Howlett said. "The administration has never come close to that figure."

"For the first six months of 1975, the number of ineligible on AFDC rolls in Illinois was 11.7 per cent of the total cases, according to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

"That is a case error rate far above the national average rate of 7.5 per cent. Throughout the Walker administration, the story has been the same."

"Instead of correcting administrative procedures, the administration has tried to blame the recipients."

"Mismanagement has continued so long that $30 million is being held by the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare, with more withholdings in prospect."

"The governor has had three years to solve these problems. We are further from solutions than before he started."

Howlett said the recipient intake system should be redesigned.

"Before this administration, only 22 per cent of recipients found ineligible by the federal government were, in fact, ineligible when they first applied," he said.

"Now, more than 55 per cent of those determined ineligible by the federal government were, in fact, ineligible when they first applied."

"This 10 per cent increase in ineligible due to initial evaluation could have been avoided by better intake procedures and careful selection and training of personnel. "We must rewrite job descriptions of the verification workers. They must be carefully recruited, trained and tightly supervised."

In the secretary of state's office, Howlett said, professional standards for employees have been raised. A motivation program, Operation Plus, was organized. Posters on public counters urge citizens to call a toll-free number with complaints or suggestions. When the program started in 1973, complaints were twice as frequent as compliments; since July 1974, compliments have outnumbered complaints 10 to one, he asserted.

"We are providing more services with fewer people," Howlett said. "We stress efficiency and courtesy." Public aid has high-priced personnel concentrated in the Springfield office while more than a dozen vacancies are unfilled in county superintendent positions, he alleged. "Key positions must be filled with qualified management personnel where the action is." As auditor and secretary of state for the last 15 years, I have eliminated waste, duplication and unnecessary paper work. "For instance," he said, "two new forms have replaced the 24 different forms formerly used to apply for license plates and certificates of title when a car is purchased."

"Problems of incomplete applications, about 20,000 a month, are being solved by phone to the applicant instead of letters. We have cut costs of handling each problem from $3 to 60 cents. As governor, he said, he would move strongly to coordinate programs, establish priorities and fix realistic deadlines for the Public Aid Department."

A neighbor heard a noise through the wall and telephoned police, as the apartment of James H. Sikes, 2133 1/2 Washington Ave., was about to be burglarized. The burglar, who was apparently frightened off, was described as a white man, six feet tall, medium build, dark hair, and wearing a gray and white plaid shirt. County board salary plan renewed

Another attempt by Madison County Board District 21 representative Dan Partney to change the payment of county board members from per diem and mileage to a flat salary was not defeated by the county board yesterday—only referred to a committee until after the March 16 primary election.

The board is to consider the issue further at its next meeting, March 24. Partney presented his resolution, by which county board members would receive a flat $5,000 per year salary, or $416 each per month, rather than the present form of paying them $25 for each board or committee meeting attended, plus mileage for driving to and from meetings.

At last month's meeting, the board voted to deny him the right to read the resolution, since it was not on the agenda. Only he and Louis Whitsell of Nanticoke Township voted to have it read.

Partney had the resolution placed on the agenda for the February meeting and could not be stopped from reading it at yesterday's meeting.

In the resolution, Partney noted the county "is in dire financial straits," and added, "It has become necessary to make drastic reductions in the budget for the fiscal year."

He also said, "It is necessary that the county board for the county of Madison make every effort to reduce expenditures," and noted, "the equitable solution to paying county board members is a salary for each individual member."

His plan called for board members who miss more than one half of all scheduled board and committee meetings to forfeit that month's salary, except for meetings missed due to hospitalization or official county business elsewhere.

The last provision was in answer to critics who said a flat salary would discourage county board members from attending committee meetings.

Partney has contended that changing the board's method of payment could save more than $40,000 in the first year. Last year's total mileage and per diem to board members totaled $184,207, excluding the chairman's pay.

His flat salary plan would cost the county $140,000 per year. He also noted that while the board reduced its budget for per diem and mileage payments to county board members, they are continuing to collect it at about the same level as in the same months of last year.

He noted that in December of 1974 and January of 1975, per diem and mileage totaled $31,318. For December of 1975 and January of this year, payments to board members totaled $30,677, only $641 below the same months one year earlier.

He noted the board's decreased budget for per diem and mileage is useless, since the members are earning funds at the same rate and payments will just have to come from contingencies when they exceed the budget.

Roger Elbie of Wood River told those present he is not against a flat salary, but felt a better plan could be developed.

He suggested the resolution be referred to the board's legislative committee for study and for a recommendation at the next meeting.

Whitsell was quick to respond to Elbie's suggestion, saying, "After the election, then it will be too late."

Whitsell was reminded that salaries can be changed by the board up until the November general election.

On a roll-call vote, the board then voted to refer the resolution to committee until March 24, when the committee is to come up with a recommendation.

As anticipated, only Partney and Whitsell voted against the resolution being taken off the floor.

The board voted to increase the pay for judges of election to $35, effective with the March 16 election. Judges formerly were paid $25 for working the election, plus $8 for a day of schooling before the election, a total of $33.

Anthony Bosich of Wood River suggested the board judges be increased further, but County Clerk Evelyn Bowles noted that state law sets the maximum at $35.

The increase will cost the county an additional $9,600 this fiscal year.

Members of the county's Bicentennial Committee were introduced and they gave a short history of the resolution. It was noted a $6,000 grant from the Illinois Bicentennial Commission has been approved and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has offered to donate $6,000 worth of metal to the committee for a life-sized statue of James Madison, which is to be placed in the center of the courthouse lobby.

Other donations are being sought from businesses, industries and individuals to help remodel the courthouse lobby to celebrate the Bicentennial.

Quad-City area members of the committee who attended were Mrs. Margaret Lee of Venice, Mrs. Winnie Sasyk of Madison and Whitsell, who is committee chairman.

Not present were Marilyn Schooley and Laveada Knobbe, both of Granite City, who also are members of that committee.

The board agreed to apply for a grant of up to $54,000 to continue designing the Madison County automatic court records system.

Work was started in the last fiscal year under an equal grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Assistance Commission to automate court felony records. It is hoped the second year grant will enable the system to be expanded to misdemeanor records and to automate jury selection procedures and study jury usage, according to the grant application.

The county's share of the grant is five per cent, not to exceed $2,700. In other business, the board: —Approved an affirmative action program to assure equal opportunities to all employees and applicants.

—Named Matthew Melucci as the county's affirmative action officer to administer the equal opportunity employment plan.

—Approved a road and sign identification program which is to be undertaken under a $40,766 grant from the county's Community Development program.

—Accepted a low bid from Big 4 Chevrolet, Collinsville, to supply a car for the investigator in the county state's attorney's office for $4,259. The program is fully-funded through a law enforcement commission grant.

—Accepted a bid from Bird Repellent Co., Decatur, to bird-proof the courthouse, bank building and old post office for $1,200.

—Approved 30-year right-of-way agreements with Illinois Power Co. and Union Electric Power Co., allowing those companies to place utility poles free along county highways.

—Agreed to advertise for bids on envelopes to be used to mail next year's tax bills.

And, approved payments to Madison County Mental Health agencies, including an $8,580 payment to the Quad-City Center.

CB RADIOS STOLEN

Two autos of Silver Pigg, 2440 Ohio Ave., were entered and a CB radio, valued at $149, was stolen from one vehicle and a commercial CB radio in a brown case was removed from the second car, it was reported at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. Both vehicles were parked in the yard at the Pigg home.

Much-criticized Illinois Medicaid could be made efficient—Howlett

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, running for governor in the March 16 Democratic primary, said Medicaid has grown in runaway fashion under Gov. Walker.

Expenditures have increased at an annual rate of 19 per cent. In one year, the average number of drug prescriptions grew from eight to 12 per recipient.

"Payments for services are delayed. Fraud goes unchecked. Few effective audit procedures have been undertaken," Howlett alleged.

"The Department of Public Aid has been inept. It has developed no effective controls for Medicaid.

"In three years, the department suspended only three service providers. They were reinstated after Director Joel Edelman resigned.

"Factoring companies that discount unpaid public aid bills of doctors, druggists, hospitals and nursing homes skim an estimated million dollars or more of state and federal money from payments collected," Howlett charged.

"Millions of dollars in overpayments to nursing homes have never been recovered, while the governor vetoed legislation requiring nursing homes to submit annual cost reports to the department.

"Last October, the department arbitrarily froze hospital rates at 1974 levels. Some inner-city hospitals face bankruptcy because of the state's freeze and delayed payments.

"3. We must establish effective rate-making mechanism for hospitals and nursing homes. This has been done in many other states with favorable cost effects.

"4. To relieve cash flow problems of hospitals and nursing homes, we should pay a fixed percentage of prior bills, holding the rest in reserve to cover questionable claims.

"We can then pay bills promptly, help institutions serve the patients and insure enough time for review and investigation of claims.

"During my 12 years as auditor of public accounts, vouchers submitted to our office were processed promptly and payments made immediately.

"The needy, the handicapped, the dependent children never had to suffer delays because of any 'red tape' in the auditor's office. Every check drawn on the state treasury went out with my signature on it, and the state's treasurer's.

"During the Walker administration, Illinois has spent nearly two billion dollars on Medicaid. It has been badly managed.

"A December 1975 federal audit report indicates five per cent of all payments in cases audited were duplicates of other payments.

"Just eliminating the duplications would save the taxpayers $27 million a year in state and federal money.

"The Medicaid program I have outlined will save taxpayers more than a hundred million dollars a year.

"It will provide better health service to the needy, help the hospitals and nursing homes stay open and restore the state government's solvency and credibility," he concluded.

Lincoln program at St. John United

A Bicentennial tribute to President Abraham Lincoln was presented during worship services this week at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameki Road.

Highlighting the event was the impersonation, with a striking resemblance, of President Lincoln, by Elmer Stille. He rose from the Lincoln rocker, an authentic piece of furniture popular in Springfield at the time of the Civil War, and recited the Gettysburg address.

Creating an historic atmosphere for the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sternberg Sr. constructed a mini-Lincoln room in the front and right side of the sanctuary.

Original ballot from the 1864 election between Lincoln and Johnson.

Corner what-not shelf from Springfield at the time Lincoln lived there. The shelf is identical to the one now in the parlor of the Lincoln home in Springfield. The Lincoln head is the classical head by Volk.

The cup and saucer and pitcher and bowl are in the tea leaf pattern used by the Lincolns. The cup and saucer are quite old. The pitcher and bowl are of the late 19th century. The books are all from Lincoln's time or the late 19th century.

An original Civil War first lieutenant's commission signed by both Lincoln and Secretary of War Stanton. It has been authenticated by Dr. McMurry, the former head of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. Museum, Fort Wayne, Ind.

A rare lithograph done by the firm of Ensign and Fanning at the time of Lincoln's first election. It shows the beardless President-elect Lincoln.

In the picture at the lower left partially concealed by the seated Lincoln, is aavenport desk not made since 1860. The inkwell is mid-eighteenth century with original glass work. The newspaper is one of those printed the morning after the assassination.

The chair was in use in Jacksonville, Ill., at the time Lincoln was riding the 8th circuit.

A Victorian table supporting a goblet from Lincoln's time done in the Lincoln drape pattern that became popular after Lincoln's death, symbolizing the festooned draping on Lincoln's casket and funeral hearse and train. A brass candlestick with original cranberry glass graces the top of the table.

Sternberg presented the message of the morning, featuring a biography of the life and strengths of President Lincoln.

After dinner was served, badges were presented to the Brownies and entertainment was provided by members of both troops.

The evening was closed by a Flames for Freedom candle ceremony and the singing of "God Bless America."

Those attending were Bob and Robin York, Tom and Chris Loyel, Angie Grabowski, Charles and Mary Ruth, Bill and Cheryl DuBay, Ed and Cindy Brown, Mike and Ann Zikovich, Daniel and Stacey Tucker, Kristel and Frank Batsch, Mike, Holly and Blaine Lambert, Jim Schmiede and Laura James, Donna and Don Broyles, Wayne and Lisa Scannell, Kim and Tina Dickey and Mr. Dickey, Charles and Lydia King, Charles and Karen Reed.

Larry and Judy Hoelter, Steve and Lori Saltich, Ray and Mary Romine, Tom and Susan Smoot, Diana, Sandra and Clifford Edwards, Bill and Diane Martin, Robert and Cheryl La Rue, Michelle Weiss, Leo and Kristin Koyndor, Bill and Paula Tegel and Patty Flannigan.

CRAWL IN WINDOW

A basement window was forced open and entry to the home of Joan Francis, 2629 State St., was gained by crawling through the small window, it was discovered at 9:25 p.m. Sunday. Francis returned home to find both the front and rear doors open and a bedroom ransacked. Stolen were a $300 stereo, a $149 tape player and a $740 television.

Meiggs, and signed by President James Monroe.

James Gilliam was among the early settlers. He first came into the township in 1794 in search of his wife, who had been taken captive by Kickapoo Indians in 1790 while the family lived in Kentucky.

A search of five years was made before the family was reunited, and in 1800 Gilliam settled on Long Lake.

Congress gave Gilliam a farm of 160 acres in recognition of sufferings of his family while captives of the Indians.

The first industry of the township was a mill operated as early as 1820 by a man whose name was Moses Job, located near Mitchell. Job opened the first store in 1839.

Mitchell station was "feeling important" as early as 1813. When the court entered an order establishing the first two county highways, one was from Edwardsville to a bridge over Long Lake in the neighborhood of Mitchell, and the other was from that bridge to the Mississippi River a short distance from the St. Louis Ferry.

Tatish Clark taught the first school in 1813 in Chouteau Township.

In 1866, the American Dyke was built and was a great enterprise at an expense of $100,000.

It commences in Section 9, Township 36 North, Range 4 East, and extends westward through the entire township, following the course of the river and Chouteau Slough.

John J. and William H. Mitchell, brothers, owned about 4,000 acres in the area of Mitchell.

John Mitchell, a lawyer from St. Louis, purchased a strip of land early in the 1900s and built a subdivision which bears his name, Brooks Addition to Mitchell.

One of the older homes in Mitchell was built in 1908 by a well known man of that day, C. W. Smith, who was supervisor of the township. He who met his death by accident on Christmas Day, 1915.

Another home, similar to the one mentioned, was built about the same time by Charles Lexow.

Mitchell is proud of its Volunteer Fire Department. On June 29, 1945, a group of men Mitchell met to talk over organizing a fire department. The meeting adjourned late with another meeting called for July to organize and to see who was interested.

The following men were present: Al Paul, J. R. Williams, John Marshall, Walter Combs, Thomas Smith, Roy Sullivan and George Warnecke.

The group solicited funds from business places and homes in the area and raised $600.

It was decided in July 1946 to incorporate the department and build a fire station, the labor being furnished by the volunteer firemen at no cost.

The department, not having enough money to finance the entire construction of the building, looked to one of the members, Al Paul, who advanced the money for completion of the building.

It was completed in time in March 1947. Since then, various improvements have been added.

The first three trustees appointed for the district were Al Paul, Joseph Troeckler and George Warnecke.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department was organized Oct. 11, 1946. The Auxiliary was the first one organized in Madison County and one of the first to be organized in the state.

Mrs. Ida Belle Handefer was the first president. Other charter members were Mrs. Al Paul, Mrs. J. R. Williams, Mrs. Earl Laswell, Mrs. Ben Eberhart, Mrs. June Allen, Mrs. Marcella Noud, Mrs. Jim Estes, Mrs. Bud Eberhart, Mrs. Clyde Norris and Mrs. Velma Klein.

The Mitchell Public Water District was organized as a result of an election held on July 24, 1957.

At that time, by a vote of 571 to 15, the people living in the area voted to organize the district for the purpose of obtaining water service for this area.

After forming the district, the county judge, Michael Kinney, appointed a seven-man board of trustees to carry on the business and affairs of the district.

The men appointed were Durbin Weeks, Olen Allen, Ed Rouben, Lee Paul, Earl Phelps, Robert Franko and Wayne Pitchford. 350 families in the area started using water on March 21, 1962.

To finance this project, $640,000 in revenue bonds were sold.

Mitchell has expanded in size and population since World War II.

Subdivisions include one which was the farm ground owned by a well known resident, Frank Troeckler, who was a farmer, bank director and supervisor of Chouteau Township. This subdivision is Paradise Acres.

Other subdivisions are Hills Terrace, Sunny Dell Acres, Cedar Park, Louis Place, Greenway Village and a number of others.

The people of Mitchell were impressed in September 1960 to see John F. Kennedy was the candidate for President in the November election, pass through Mitchell in a caravan touring Madison County.

Besides the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church and the United Presbyterian Church, the Baptists have built a brick church in the Paradise Acres subdivision. Another Baptist church was built in the Brooks addition.

The Parent-Teacher Association, the Girl Scouts, the Boy Scouts, Kiwanis International, the Women's Organization of the United Presbyterian Church, the Mitchell Democratic Club played a big part in the progress of the area, which is still growing.

LOOT ALBERMAN'S CAR

A $150 citizens' band radio and microphone were stolen from the station wagon of Granite City Alderman Ronald Coleman, 3445 Woodlawn Ave., parked at 21st Street and Washington Avenue, it was reported at 12:45 a.m. Tuesday.

A coat hanger was believed used to unlock the vehicle door.

It was this time that Venice had been ruined by floods, and the devastation helped the community to rebuild.

In later years, John moved to St. Louis and William to Chicago.

The first school built in Mitchell was a one-room frame built in 1871; another room was built in 1894.

As the population continued to grow, another room was added in 1937.

In 1950, it was still overcrowded and the building was torn down; work was started on the present physical education and classroom facilities.

Unlike the early days when children had to walk for miles to school, school buses were being the children to and from school.

The first blacksmith shop in Mitchell was opened by Henry Quinn upon his quitting the business, Al Paul ran it. He came to the U.S. when a young boy.

After learning the wagon and horseshoeing trade in St. Louis, he came to Mitchell in 1877 and worked as a blacksmith shop on the Old Alton Road.

Paul later built a blacksmith shop in a cornfield and continued his business until 1929.

He retired as a blacksmith and opened a filling station and garage, which business he and his son, Albert Jr., were operating at the time of his death June 8, 1942.

The little village had a Catholic church building and parsonage. The corner stone was blessed by the Rev. J. F. Moak, assisted by the Rev. F. A. Ostrop, F. H. Zabel, A. Rustige and C. Koenig.

In 1881, a parsonage was erected, the Rev. Pete Koenig, pastor, was the first ministers being the first in charge.

At that time, about 40 families were active, most well-to-do farmers.

In later years, the church was overcrowded and a new church and parsonage were built in the Nemoek area.

The Mitchell Presbyterian Church was erected in 1897 by John J. and Mary Carsten Mitchell to serve Protestant people in the community of Mitchell.

Being non-sectarian, any denomination holding services for 12 consecutive years would receive this property.

In 1927, it was decided to the church extension committee of Alton Presbyterian by the Mitchell area.

In 1951, it was decided to the trustees of the Mitchell Presbyterian Church.

In the early morning of March 20, 1956, this building was destroyed by fire. Church services were then held in the St. Elizabeth parish hall until a new church was built in 1958, four blocks east of the old church site.

A name was purchased; it was the home of Otto Reitz a retired C&E employee on 133 Big Four Place, for the pastor.

Child abuse on increase

Living in an abusive time and in a generally hostile society has caused a rise in child abuse and neglect, according to the Rev. Kenneth Edelman, a Presbyterian minister of Alton and member of the Children's Family and Youth Advocacy Council of Madison, St. Clair and Monroe Counties.

Rev. Edelman spoke at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary club at the YMCA.

The speaker said that parents generally are to blame and showed a film which depicted a home situation where the husband and wife were not getting along and they were taking their frustrations out on the children.

The film also noted other areas of abuse, other than physical, such as psychological and emotional abuse.

Rev. Edelman said that several self-help groups known as Parents Anonymous have been started to aid parents overcome tendencies to abuse or neglect their children.

Rev. Edelman said that the club's annual child day. The event will be held Tuesday, March 9 at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, serving from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. and from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m.

In conjunction with students of Colonial America, the fourth grade classes at Parkview School made cornhusk dolls.

The boys and girls learned the type of dolls with which the Indian children played. It is believed the Indians taught the early colonists how to make these types of dolls.

Pioneer and Indian boys and girls were adept in making cornhusk dolls. They braided the cornhusks for hair and arms and stuck bright bird feathers in the braids, the students were told.

In working on the project the classes of Mrs. Sandra DeMoulin and Mrs. Carol Gendron developed an appreciation for their American heritage, the teachers said.

The dolls will be on display at the annual "Acre of Art" show on Sunday, May 2.

Workshops for theater arts students scheduled at SIUE

The department of theater and dance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the Metro-East-St. Louis Regional Council on Inter-institutional Cooperation (CIC), a consortium of several colleges and universities in the area, will hold a series of workshops for theater arts students.

The workshops will be held in the Communications Building auditorium at SIUE on Feb. 21 and 28 and March 7 and 13 from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Registration for the four workshops is $10, which covers the entire series and includes lunch at each workshop.

Professional, academic and community theater organizations throughout the metropolitan St. Louis area have combined their talents and resources to offer theater arts students, from beginners to advanced students, a unique opportunity for concentrated study and practice.

Each Saturday workshop will be devoted to a major phase of theater arts. The morning sessions will consist of demonstrations, presentations and discussions.

During the afternoon sessions, students will have an opportunity to participate in both spontaneous and pre-assigned activities in directing and acting techniques, including improvisations, choreography and pantomime.

Instruction and practice will also be offered in scene design and painting, makeup and costume.

Students will be guided in each workshop by professionals from the Loretto-Hilton Repertory Company of St. Louis, the Barn and Plantation Dinner Theaters, and other professionals in the theater. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SIUE department of theater and dance.

Miss Hotz endorses Mrs. Alter

Former Madison County Clerk Eulalia Hotz yesterday announced her endorsement of Joanne Alter for lieutenant governor of Illinois.

At a news conference in Edwardsville, Miss Hotz also announced that she will serve as chairman of Mrs. Alter's campaign in Madison County.

"She needs her energy, intelligence and experience in the lieutenant governor's office," Miss Hotz said, "to make the state's number-two job more than just a waiting place or a stepping stone to higher office."

"Mrs. Alter has a strong record of diligent work on behalf of the Democratic Party, helping elect many well-qualified candidates to office at both the state and local levels. She has been a leader in efforts to open up the party to participation by women and independents," Miss Hotz said.

Focus Week for Baptist Union

The Women's Missionary Union of Third Baptist Church observed its annual focus week last week by presenting "Vocal Focal," a special program highlighting the WMU organizations and their function, at the church.

Lorene Heil, WMU president, was in charge and introduced WMU director Ruth Hopkins and the young people's director, Dee Greer.

Also introduced were leaders and assistants of the auxiliaries, including: Mission Friends, Carolyn Sykes, Marilyn Greenlee, Debbie Elmore, Lori Pendergrass, Cindy Durborow, Rita Lankford, Joyce Young, Cathy Pendergrass and Ginger Casleton.

Girls-in-Action, Donna Milliken, Bonnie Nading, Karen

Cline, Lucille Crews, Joyce Richardson, Nancy Greer; and Acetees, Helen Carrington and Gloria Johnson.

Donna Milliken displayed a mobile, prepared by the first and second grade girls, as Stephanie French and Kara Crews described the pictures and their relation to mission work and the stories studied.

Angela and Anita Durborow and Michele Floyd each read a scripture passage and displayed original drawings, explaining their interpretations to the audience. In conclusion the entire group sang the "Girls in Action" song, directed by Nancy Greer.

Mrs. Carrington and Acetee president Debbie Elmore presented a "fairable," described as a cross between a fairy story and parable, featuring Cinderella and her fairy godmother.

Sectional mat tourney at South; fierce competition expected

The race for individual and team championships in the 39th annual Illinois High School Association boys' state wrestling competition ended another phase this weekend at seven sectional sites.

Barrington, Champaign Central, Dixon, Naperville Central, Northlake, West Leyden, Richton Park and GCHS South.

The state tournament series began last weekend with district competition, including a Class AA meet at Edwardsville captured by GCHS South for a 19th straight year. Wood River placed second and GCHS North was third.

South High's Warriors advanced three weight class champions and three second-place matmen into sectional warfare here. North High's Steelers have three weight class champions and two second-place wrestlers competing in the sectional.

Competing here also in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium when first-round weight class bouts begin at 7 p.m. tomorrow will be champions and runners-up from district competition held at Belleville West, Carbondale and Springfield.

Second-round action here will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday, with tournament finals to start at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Warrior mentor William Schmitt, whose mat team is seeking its first state title since sharing the crown in 1965 with Oak Lawn, has announced first-round pairings involving matmen from both Granite City schools. They are, by weight class, with record given:

98 pounds — Kris Whelan (GCHS), 30-2, vs. Norman Dahm (Belleville West).
105 — Barry Forshoe (GCHS), 19-9, vs. Steve Tatesch (Lincoln, Ill.); and Keith Whelan (GCHS), 32-4, versus Jim Janick (Belleville West).
119 — Matt McCullough (GCHS), 12-2-1, versus Mike Lorenzini (Cahokia).
132 — Glen Moore (GCHS), 19-5, versus Terry Weis (Belleville West).
135 — Darrell Hasty (GCHS), 23-3-2, versus Marty Garkie (Quincy).
145 — Ed Fetter (GCHS), 19-10-1, versus Randy Ellenbrock (Quincy).
155 — Steve Avedisian (GCHS), 22-6, versus Kevin Johnson (Springfield Lamplighter).
167 — Mark Widel (GCHS), 24-7-1, versus Don Leonard (Carbondale).
And heavyweight Mark Naglich (GCHS), 20-5, versus Bob Bleyer (Carbondale).

West's Maroons, winners of their own district, have three weight class champions and five runners-up entered here, and East's Lancers advanced six champions and one runner-up.

Belleville East is the defending sectional champion. "This year's 98-pounder from all indications," notes Schmitt, "will again be a power struggle between the two Belleville and the two Granite City schools."

He added, "I won't even attempt to predict the outcome of this one."

Compared to South High's 102 team winning district points,

West emerged victorious with 131½ team points and East was second with 121.

Murphyboro took top honors at the Carbondale district, and Quincy led at the Springfield district.

Ninety-six matmen will compete here in 12 weight classes.

Undeclared wrestlers here will include Belleville West's Mike See at 167 pounds and North's Keith Whelan at 105.

Whelan has a 32-0 record, and See is 28-0.

Belleville West has the most matmen entered here, eight, and Belleville East has seven.

Four schools advanced six wrestlers — Carbondale, GCHS South, Murphyboro and Quincy — and two schools advanced five matmen — Centralia and Wood River.

Other schools represented here besides GCHS North will be Springfield Lamplighter, Lincoln, Ill., Springfield (145 second), Southeast, Cahokia, Collinsville, Mount Carmel, Bethalto, Jacksonville, Jerseyville, Harrisburg, Herrin, East St. Louis Lincoln and Senior High, Edwardsville, Roxana, Belleville Althoff, Springfield High School, Hillsboro and Mascoutah.

For GCHS North at Edwardsville, Kris Whelan (98 pounds) champion, won on pins 1:02 and :49 and on an 8-0 decision, and Keith Whelan (105) champion, had a bye and won 8-0 and 10-1.

David Futch (112) and North's 11-5 and Matt McCullough (119) champion, won 1-49, 3:17 and 6-0.

Charles Taylor (126) third, won 3:11, lost 6-0 and won 21-11 and won 23-2. John Sands (132) third, lost 3:36 and won 5-0 and 3-2.

Ray Stuart (138) lost 6-4. Doug Haines (145) lost 4-0. Steve Hartline (155) lost 10-16 in overtime. Mark Widel (167) second, won 6-0 and won 11-17 in overtime, lost 5-3 and won 8-4. James Shemwell (185) lost 6-5 and 7-2. Heavyweight Dennis Cavar lost 5-2 and lost 1:28.

Sam Perkins (112) lost 0-8. Randy Basore (119) won 4-3, lost 8-3 and lost 9-5.

Jay Fedora (126) won 3-0, lost 7-1 and lost 5:32. Glen Moore (132) champion, won all his bouts, 18-4, 7-3 and 13-4.

Steve Avedisian (155) champion, won each time, 13-0, 5-4 and 2-0. Jerry Patterson (167) won 11-4, lost 11-7 in overtime, won 7-0 and lost 11-9.

Kevin Wilson (185) third, won 3:28, lost 6-5, won 5:23 and won 7-0.

Heavyweight Mark Naglich second, drew a bye, lost 6-2, won 16-1 and won 7-2.

The top two finishers in each weight class will advance from the sectional here to the state final tournament, scheduled the weekend of Feb. 27-28 at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall, Champaign.

STEELER DISTRICT MAT FINALISTS. GCHS North will have four wrestlers representing the school in South High's sectional tournament this weekend. Women Cougars win nine in row

The Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville topped Greenville College's Panthers 54-30 in a women's basketball game Monday night in Greenville, raising the Cougars' record to 14-3 and extending their winning streak to nine games.

Sharon Frey, co-captain from Edwardsville, led the Cougar attack with 12 points but had plenty of help from her teammates. Chipping in with 11 points for the SIUE squad was Cherry Sharp, a junior from Granite City, followed by Jan

Green, the team's other co-captain, with 10 points.

Four other players scored for the Cougars. They were Jo Brooks with eight points; Kathy Going, six; Jane O'Laughlin, five; and Gena Cross, two.

In a previous meeting of the two teams, the Cougars had defeated Greenville by only one point, 51-50. This time the Cougars limited the Panthers to eight points in the second half and held Greenville's hot-shooting Nancy Davenport, who had 30 points in the first meeting of the two teams, to only six points for the evening.

Three remaining games—before the state tournament begins March 4 in Macomb—will be at home for the Cougars, at the Edwardsville High School women's gym. Trying to break the Cougars' winning streak will be Meramec Junior College tonight, McKendree College on Monday, Feb. 23, and St. Louis University on Thursday, Feb. 26. All three games will be played at 8 o'clock.

Woodward to Iowa State

Former Granite City James Woodward, now a resident of Collinsville, has signed a letter of intent to enroll this fall on an athletic scholarship at Iowa State University to play football.

Woodward, who also attended grade school and junior high school here before moving to Collinsville last year, was a standout football, basketball and track and field athlete at GCHS North. The 6-5, 215-pound senior is active on Kahok teams this year.

PRIZE CATCH was this seven-pound, 24-inch largemouth bass displayed by Edward Sprajcar, 1348 Madison Ave., who caught the fish in the Pontiac area of Bull Shoals during the weekend. Sprajcar caught the bass, the biggest of the year so far in that area, on a Mepp's tandem spinner. Awarded a certificate making him a member of the "Lunker Club," he was accompanied by Paul "Mickey" Worthen.

Donkey basketball game at school fails to yield victor

The third annual GCHS South versus GCHS North faculty and letterman club donkey basketball contest Tuesday night in Granite City Memorial gymnasium ended in a 22-22 deadlock.

Four quarters of regulation time, a two-minute overtime period and then a 30-second overtime period failed to produce a victor.

A near-capacity crowd saw GCHS South post an 8-6 first-quarter lead before GCHS North gained a 16-16 halftime tie.

South High led 20-16 after the third quarter and appeared headed for victory with a 22-20 lead, but with six seconds left to play, but North tied it on an interpretation of special rules for the donkey game.

A dismounted South player had knocked the basketball from the hands of a North player, instead of the defender remaining on top of his donkey.

Three players earned high score honors, each with six points — GCHS North's Pete Robinson and GCHS South's Steve Brown and John Brooks.

3 games remain for cage Cougars

Three games remain on the varsity basketball schedule of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougars, and Coach Jim Dudley is hopeful that his charges may soon be getting more favorable bounces of that ball.

At Milwaukee Saturday night, the Cougars experienced another one of those games that have frustrated them all season, coming close but losing in a series of cliffhangers.

The 61-63 loss in overtime dropped the Cougars to 8-15 for the season. But, at that, Dudley has to feel a certain pride in his charges' performances in what, everyone agreed, was to have been a rebuilding year.

With 4:30 remaining in the game at Milwaukee, the Cougars captured the lead, 54-53, on a driving layup by their junior forward, Pete Catchings.

On that play, the Wisconsin coach, Bob Gottlieb, felt that Catchings should have been called for charging and so expressed himself. He was promptly hit with a technical foul call and SIUE's despicable foul shooter, Kell Peebles, whose 18 points led the Cougars in the game, connected to make the score, 55-53.

SIUE took the ball out of bounds and with 2:15 left on the clock, Catchings drove in once again for a layup made possible by the Cougars' passing offense.

But "Lady Luck" stepped in again. Catchings was called for a foul against the Panthers' 6-7 center, Glen Allen; Allen made both ends of the bonus shot, and the score was 57-55, SIUE.

Milwaukee rallied to tie it, 57-57, in regulation time and won it in overtime.

The Cougars will meet tough Indiana U.-Purdue U. Indianapolis in the Indiana capital city Saturday night.

Then, next Wednesday, the Cougars host the University of Missouri-St. Louis Rivermen at Edwardsville High. SIUE winds the season with Blackburn College at ESS Saturday night, Feb. 28.

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought To You By Milton Mathews

Here's a baseball riddle you can have some fun with. How can a team get three triples and three singles in one inning, and still not have a home run?
Answer: First two men triple and are out at the plate trying for an inside-the-park homer. Next man triples and stays at third. Next two men get infield singles with the runner holding third. Last man smacks a ground ball that hits runner going from first to second. Batter gets credit for a hit, but runner is out, making three triples, three singles, three outs... and no runs!

Did you know there used to be big league baseball teams with the nicknames of "Spiders," "Bees" and "Blue Jays"? Do you know which teams had these names? "Spiders" was the early nickname for Cleveland's team. The Bees were known as "Bees" in the 1930's. And the Phillies changed their name to "Blue Jays" at one time in the 1940's.

Do you have any idea what was the smallest city ever to have a big league baseball team? Answer is Troy, N.Y. Troy was in the National League from 1879 to 1882.

Trojans win 79-72; home finale Friday

Madison High School's Trojan cagers will host St. Louis' Roosevelt High at 8 p.m. tomorrow in their regular season finale with hopes of having a 22-2 record going into next week's Freeburg Class A regional meet.

Madison garnered its 21st win of the season, and its 13th straight victory, at home Tuesday night with a 79-72 conquest of the Northwest High Blue Devils of St. Louis.

The Trojans led 22-18, 47-26 and 58-44 at the quarters. Fourth-quarter Madison turnovers helped the visitors outscore Madison 28-20 in that period to make it relatively close.

The Blue Devils stopped Madison's inside scoring combination of Ron and Randall Jones by double-teaming Randall Jones throughout the contest, hampering Madison's inside under-the-basket scoring pattern.

But Ron Jones overcame the tactic by hitting the basket frequently from outside the circle and also with occasional outside baskets on passes from teammate Danny Bankhead.

Ron Jones poured in 14 of Madison's first quarter points and added six more in the second period before Coach Larry Graham began sending in substitute players from the bench during the second quarter with Madison on top 38-18.

Madison, leading by 21 points at halftime and by 15 going into the final period, began losing ground to Northwest when the Blue Devils after trailing 75-60, closed to within five points through field goals on five straight Trojan turnovers.

But little time was left, and the Trojans countered with four foul shots while holding Northwest to an additional basket.

Northwest had the advantage from the field, 33-32, but Madison dominated on charity tosses, 15-4.

MHS had the fewest fouls, 16-14, and the fewest turnovers, 19-11.

After controlling the boards in 11 straight contests, Madison was topped by Northwest on rebounds, 38-32.

Ron Jones led the point-making with 25. Randall Jones scored 12, Curtis Bradley 10, Edwin Garrett and Rodney Davis seven each and Joe Gulash, Bankhead and Ron Williams, six each.

TALL TROUBLE. Northwest's 6-7 center, Gene Brown, tries to get into position for a rebound but is screened out by Madison's Curtis Bradley (30) and Randall Jones (22) as the two schools met here Tuesday night. Trojan Ron Jones (12) shoots and connects despite efforts by Kerry Turner (33) to block the shot. No. 14 of Madison is Joe Gulash.

Devils utilize turnovers for 73-56 victory

St. Henry Prep's misfortunes were converted into Venice points Tuesday night as the Red Devils won handily, 73-56, over the Belleville squad in a cage tilt on Venice's home court.

Venice, in winning its 19th straight contest, led 23-16, 41-20 and 53-38 at the quarters.

Coach Richard Essington's Red Devils are now 21-1 for the season. The team is at South High tonight at 8.

Tuesday's decisive second quarter, the Devils shut down the Eagles' offensive effort to only four points while taking advantage of seven enemy turnovers, mainly on stolen passes, to hit on eight of 18 shots from the field.

Red Devil Jaffee Woolfork, who has scored in double figures every game this season, pulled down 11 rebounds in the contest, converting four into baskets enroute to posting 20 points.

Venice outshot the visitors from the field, 32-22, and the Eagles held the edge from the foul line, 12-9.

Venice had the most fouls, 14-11, and the most rebounds, 39-27.

Other than Woolfork's 20, scoring points also for Venice were James Crowder with 16, James Turner 16, Reggie Gardner nine, Ron Salmund six and Larrick Arnold and Venice Govan, two each.

Venice, Madison top seeded for regional basketball meet

With Venice and Madison High Schools having one basketball contest each remaining on the 1975-76 regular season schedule — Venice at GCHS South at eight o'clock tonight and Madison playing host to St. Louis Roosevelt at 8 p.m. tomorrow — the two local powerhouses have received the top two seedings for next week's Class A regional tournament, which begins Monday at Freeburg and concludes Friday, Feb. 27, with the championship game there at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Richard Essington's Venice Red Devils, now with a 21-1 record, are the top-seeded team in Freeburg's eight-school regional.

Coach Larry Graham's Madison Trojans, now 21-2, are seeded second. Belleville's St. Henry Prep received the third seeding and Freeburg, fourth, Venice, defending state Class

A champion, opens regional action at Freeburg Monday in a 7 p.m. contest with East St. Louis Assumption.

A second contest Monday, at 9:30 p.m., pits Belleville St. Henry Prep against Columbia.

On Tuesday, Madison and Duplo clash at 7 p.m., followed by a Freeburg and Lovejoy of Brooklyn contest at 8:30 p.m.

Victors in Monday's contests will play at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, and winners of Tuesday's contests will meet at the championship game there at 7:30 p.m.

The regional champion decided Feb. 27 will advance to sectional competition at Vandalia starting March 2.

The Vandalia sectional titlist will go on to super-sectional action at Charleston on March 9 in an attempt to earn a berth in the state finals March 12-13 at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall at Champaign.

Jones named all-American

Dennis Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley E. Jones, Box 1156, Rural Route Two, Granite City, has been named an all-American by the National Junior College Athletic Association in recognition of his two-year performance as a soccer player with the Belleville Area College Dutchmen coached by Mike Moore.

Jones, a former soccer standout at GCHS North, is the first in the sport from BAC to be so honored and only the seventh athlete in the long history of Belleville College.

His feats include leading the BAC team in scoring each of the past two seasons, 10 goals each year and 14 assists this past season. The Dutchmen posted an 8-2-2 season record in 1975 that included a second straight Illinois state championship and seventh place in the national finals.

Jones will graduate this spring and will continue his studies in physical education with hopes of becoming a coach in the sport of soccer.

$2,000 band equipment stolen

About $2,000 worth of band equipment was stolen from the bus of Andy Howat, Minneapolis, Minn., parked in the parking lot outside of Rico's II Lounge, 3675 near Nameoki Road, it was reported at 10:10 p.m. Monday.

The rear door of the bus was pried open. Stolen were a speaker cabinet and speaker and a case containing 14 microphones and about 1,000 feet of microphone cord.

Howat said when he came outside, he saw two youths in a car near the bus. The car sped away when he approached.

He said the youths were about 18 or 19 years-of-age, one was blond and one had brown hair, and they were in a 1974 or 1975 brown Chevrolet Monte Carlo.

Arlythe Browning gave the report on the state convention to be held in Springfield on April 9, 10, and 11. Plans to hold a workshop for Level certificates in Granite City and Alton this summer are being made. Dates will be announced later.

Forms for student aid available

Applications for financial aid at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for 1976-77 are now available in the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance, according to John Jenetten, director. Deadline for the fall quarter is June 1.

To apply for financial aid, a student must file either a Parents' Confidential Statement (if he or she is still living at home and/or is receiving financial support from parents) or a Student's Financial Statement (if the student is self-supporting) with the College Scholarship Service, Berkeley, Calif.

The College Scholarship Service does not award financial aid. It evaluates the financial ability of a family to contribute to the costs of the student's post-high school education.

In addition to the SUE application for financial aid, all undergraduates must apply to the Basic Grant Program. Illinois resident undergraduates must also apply to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission Monetary Award Program.

Applications for the Basic Grant Program are being mailed to all currently enrolled freshmen, sophomores and juniors.

Illinois State Scholarship Commission monetary award applications are available in the SUE Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance, located in Room 0214 of the General Office Building on the SUE campus.

Four major types of financial aid are available. Students can apply for the college work-study program, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, National Direct Student Loans or SUE tuition waivers.

The application for financial aid also includes a few specialized programs of assistance: nursing scholarships and loans, health professions scholarships and loans, and programs administered through the SUE Foundation.

Scholarships and loans administered through the SUE Foundation and health professions scholarships and loans do not have a June 1 deadline, Jenetten said.

The application for financial aid also serves as the application for on-campus student employment, Jenetten said.

Clerk Portell, Greene opponents on March 16

Contenders in the Democratic primary election for the office of clerk of the Third Judicial Circuit are the incumbent, Willard V. "Butch" Portell, and James E. Greene.

Portell, a former Granite Cityan, resides on Rural Route Three, Collinsville. His March 16 opponent lives at 3403 Lincoln Ave., Alton, and is a member of the Madison County Board.

Portell, 57, who was honored at a large testimonial dinner held at SIUE Nov. 7, is seeking his fifth consecutive four-year term as circuit clerk. He is a bachelor.

Greene is married. He and his wife, Sue, have four children. Currently 41 years old, Greene will be 42 on March 9.

He works the second shift at the McDonnell Douglas plant in St. Louis County.

Greene has been an assistant scoutmaster, a scoutmaster and an explorer post adviser in the Boy Scouts.

He also has been a member of the Eagles, American Legion, Wood River Jaycees and the Methodist church.

Greene told the Press-Record, "If elected, I will cut the cost of the office of clerk of the Circuit Court."

"I will have two administrative experts help me set up new ways to run the office; I will pay these people myself."

The candidate added, "I will offer an employee incentive plan whereby I will pay for suggestions which help cut costs in the office."

"If I am elected, there will be no lugs or payments from employees or anyone doing business with or using the services of this office," Greene concluded.

Portell, who receives an annual salary of $19,000, operates an office with a yearly budget of about a half-million dollars and a staff of more than 50 persons.

Prior to becoming circuit clerk in 1960, he served in other posts at the County Courthouse for eight years—four years on the sheriff's staff and four years in the county treasurer's office.

Each year since 1960, he has published his personal income tax information in keeping with his campaign pledges.

Portell was elected in 1972 as president of the Illinois Court Clerks Association.

His affiliations include St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Collinsville, Sacred Heart Church in Granite City, the Knights of Columbus, Holy Name Society, American Legion, Moose and Elks.

He is a veteran of U. S. Navy service.

Portell's interests include fellowship with professional athletes, and he yearly serves as co-chairman of a golf tournament that raises funds to combat cystic fibrosis in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Because of the unusually large volume of suits handled in Madison County, he regards the responsibilities as exceeding that of the salary level and he has consistently advocated an increase in the pay of the circuit clerk.

He says his employees in the past have helped provide reelection campaign funds but that such collections were ended this fall, and he refunded $1,420 to 48 workers. The half per cent of salary had been in addition to 1 1/2 per cent contributions to county Democrats, he said.

Court clerical services are offered in Granite City, Edwardsville, Alton, East Alton, Wood River and Collinsville. He regards the services rendered as highly professional and efficient.

He has noted substantial upturns in the number of divorces, juvenile offenses, misdemeanors and felonies.

Although this county is considered fifth largest in Illinois, Portell adds, it is second only to Cook County in the number of major law cases.

Madison Jr. Service aids March of Dimes

Handmade stuffed Valentines decorated the tables at the February meeting of the Madison Junior Service Club held last week at the Madison Recreation Center.

President Mrs. Julia Voloski presided at the business session, and Mrs. Elvera Stagner reported on a roadblock which benefited the March of Dimes campaign.

Other events discussed to aid the March of Dimes were hosting a basketball game and sponsoring a walkathon. A club donation to the March of Dimes also was authorized.

Plans were reviewed for a float entry in the July 3 Bicentennial parade. Mrs. Voloski announced a "taste tease" will be held at 8:30 p.m. March 9 at the Madison Recreation Center, with members bringing samples of their favorite recipes for guests to taste.

Teresa Rhoads and Mrs. Voloski were hostesses at the meeting. Mrs. Mary Anna Kaminski served as hostess at a board meeting held the previous week.

Also present were June Boelling, Caroline Champion, Carol Childers, Shirley Clark, Donna Dorris, Fannie Fisk, Jo Ann Gushleff, Doris Paterson, Janet Shultz, Dorothy Smith, Elvira Stagner, Lillian Delpe, Mary Stanfill, Eileen Huelskamp and Marcella Obranovich.

Preceptor chapter views fashions

Miss Ruth Stoyanoff, 1211 Iowa St., Madison, entertained Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, last week in her home. The program was a preview of spring and summer fashions.

Mrs. Betty Ebling introduced the cultural program on "Fashions" by giving a humorous reading, entitled "Modesty in Dress." Mrs. Delores Dorch modeled a red, white and blue ensemble, featuring the new length in skirts. Various combinations of accessories were shown with the outfit.

President Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver read a financial statement from the sorority's international office and verified the chapter's cash contributions to the endowment and the exemplar funds.

Green plants is club topic

"Green Plants Under Glass" was presented by Mrs. George Smolich as the program for a Garden Study Club meeting held last week.

She displayed small plants usually used for "dish gardens" and terrariums. A dessert luncheon was served preceding the meeting by the hostess, Mrs. David Maxton, in her home, 30 Oaklawn Drive.

Roll call was answered with names of favorite cactus species, by the members. Mrs. Wilma Winter, president, introduced a new member, Mrs. John McComis. A report on the Madison County nature trail progress and on the activities of the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club was reviewed by the president.

Members voted to send a contribution to the Garden Clubs of Illinois, Inc., scholarship fund.

Mrs. Bert St. Ivany, 3715 Fair Oaks Drive, will host the next meeting when newly elected officers will be installed.

Amvets 51 crowns Valentine couple

Tom McGowan and Mrs. Jackie Petras were crowned "king and queen of hearts" at the annual Valentine party and family day of Amvets Post 51 held during the weekend.

About 50 Amvets, their families and guests attended the party and polka dinner. The club rooms at Amvets Post 51, located at 5100 Lakeview Drive, were decorated with hearts and flowers for the occasion.

The retiring king and queen, Ben Sanders and Mrs. Trudy McGowan, assisted in the coronation ceremony and exchanged gifts with their successors.

A cake walk project with all proceeds assigned to the child welfare program also was part of the activities.

A guest at the local post during the weekend was Terri White of St. Louis County, national Amvets sergeant-at-arms.

Named to Dean's List at Boston U.

Miss Carol Ann Schmidt, a senior at Boston University, has been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester. It was learned this week.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Isabel C. Schmidt, 2709 Center St.

Miss Schmidt will graduate from the Massachusetts school in December with a bachelor of science degree in nursing.

A graduate of Granite City High School, Miss Schmidt also earned a B.Sc. degree in education from Northwestern University at Evanston in 1973.

Washington Sunday at St. John

St. John United Church of Christ, 2001 Nanket Road, will continue its Bicentennial commemoration Sunday at the 9 a.m. and 10:20 a.m. worship services.

Eighth in the current Bicentennial series, this Sunday's presentation will spotlight George Washington, portrayed by Russ Chappell in period costume.

Chappell will deliver several of the first President's most famous commentaries, his prayer at Valley Forge and excerpts from Washington's inaugural address.

Under the direction of Mrs. Irene Barrick, the Chancel Choir will sing "This Is My Country."

Women of the Moose enroll 3

The charter of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, was draped in black in memory of a 27-year member, Mrs. Pearl Giffin, who died this month, at a meeting held last week.

Miss Ruth Stover, senior regent, announced the charter will remain draped for one month.

Arrangements for the meeting and social hour were completed by the Hospital Committee headed by Mrs. Sue Goodman. She was assisted by Mrs. Mildred Walker.

Three new members, Mrs. Louise Smith, Mrs. Ope

Steve Suss, who is serving as publicity chairman for the Bicentennial series, said Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Sternberg will display interesting mementos and relics from their personal era at both services.

The Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner will deliver the morning's message, encompassing the concept of how Washington has remained "first in the hearts of his countrymen" two centuries later.

Under the direction of Mrs. Irene Barrick, the Chancel Choir will sing "This Is My Country."

Prizes for the evening were won by Mrs. Mary St. Ivany, Mrs. Edna Bardeley and Mrs. Sara Gusewelle.

Birthday members who were honored at the meeting included Madames Pat Allison, Leitha Worthen, Sara Gusewelle and Lorene Grillo.

St. Council hears parade plans

The Granite City Senior Citizens Council discussed participation in the July 3 Bicentennial parade during its meeting last week at the Senior Citizens Center, 1918 Edison Ave.

President Edgar Paddock was in charge and opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag and prayer.

David Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority, discussed tentative plans for the parade for the council to follow. Paddock announced Rules of the Road classes are planned in three sessions to aid any senior citizen who must take a driving test soon. The series will begin on March 2 at 7 p.m. and continue March 3 and 4 at the Senior Citizens Center.

Instructors will be Oscar Ash, Delbert McKissick and Paddock.

The council's next meeting is scheduled at 2 p.m. Monday, March 1, at the center.

Donate gift to children's home

A basketball and hoop will be presented to a children's home in Alton, it was decided last week at a meeting of Epsilon Eta Sorority.

Members were entertained in the home of Mrs. Mary Ellen Boyer, 3201 Bluebird Lane. Donation of the recreational equipment to the home was discussed in the business session, conducted by Mrs. Carol Grove, president.

Also reviewed were plans for a mother-daughter banquet in May.

Mrs. Charlotte Talbot and Mrs. Grove were honored on their birthdays and presented gifts from their secret pals during the social hour.

A dessert course was served by the hostess to those named and to Mrs. Joyce Jenness, Mrs. Carol Kessler, Mrs. Nancy Sabo, Miss Rose Marie Kozol and Mrs. Martha Burnett, who will host the March 10 meeting in her home, 4 Mercer Drive.

East Bank sets weekend tryouts

East Bank Players, Inc., will hold three audition sessions this weekend for their next production, "Zelda," a comedy written by Sylvia Ragan.

A cast of four men, four women and a boy and a girl is required.

Tryouts will take place in the Fellowship Hall at Niedringhaus Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, at 7:30 p.m. Friday, 2 p.m. Saturday and 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Persons interested in providing technical, lighting, backstage and special effects work also are being encouraged to contact the East Bank Players.

"Zelda" will be performed April 24 and April 25 and April 30 and May 1 at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 2052 Edison Ave.

Prospective cast members unable to audition at the arranged times are invited to contact Michael Sharp, director, at 876-5063 or 876-7200, or Catherine Cassy at 877-8753, for an alternate date. Gene Cassy is serving as technical director for the show.

South High speech students perform

Speech students from Granite City High School South presented the program at a meeting last week of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) at the First Baptist Church in Granite City.

The students who performed are under the tutelage of Ronald Pennell at South High. Helen Veloff, program chairwoman, introduced the young people.

The business session was conducted by Mary Veloff, president, with plans being made to hold the March meeting at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Nation in St. Louis.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Elizabeth Edwards, Frances Merkelbach and Mrs. Nation.

ROM 1:16 "... For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

The Apostle Paul was one of the greatest workers for truth that God has ever raised. One of the greatest things Paul ever said was, "I am not ashamed." He was not ashamed because his words were the GOSPEL of CHRIST, and not his own.

I am convinced that far too often today we are more reluctant to speak for God than we are to be bold for him. Jesus said, "If any man be ashamed of me before men, I also will be ashamed of him before my Father."

It is time for believers to speak, to testify, to shout it from the housetops. Christ is able to save to the uttermost, them that call on his Name.

Venice Women's Club entertained

Mrs. Madonna Groshong entertained members of the Venice Women's Club at her home during the weekend for a Valentine party and business meeting.

The February hostess committee, consisting of Mrs. Mamie Ponce, Mrs. Sybil Robbs, Mrs. Grace Grimes, Mrs. Ann Boelling, Mrs. Alice Mitchell and Mrs. Melba Elgan, provided games and prizes. Each person received a gift.

A "heart and flowers" theme prevailed throughout the party decorations and table appointments.

Committee reports were given during the business session and a gift was authorized to be sent to a member in hospital. Greeting cards also were sold with the proceeds assigned to the club's scholarship fund.

Others present were Mesdames Alline Patterson, Elvie Owens, Ann Hartman, Lisa Bauer, Ora Anderson, Hazel Painter, Ruth Canner, Rose Scaturro, Naomi Boelling, Elsie Canner, Rhea Buente, Vivian McKinney, Josephine Johnstone, Margaret Seibert, Lula Kowalski, Jessie Foley and Nora McCoid.

Plans for the evening were completed at an executive board meeting last week, conducted by the president, Mrs. Ruth Jorgensen.

Also discussed at the meeting were the Area PTA Council's awards dinner at 6:15 p.m. Feb. 26 at South High School, and the school picnic to be held May 17 in Area 5 at Wilson Park.

Mrs. Jorgensen said all money from the candy sale must be turned in at the school no later than Feb. 27.

The PTA's next board meeting will take place at 7 p.m., March 11.

Opti-Mrs. Club plans to install

Mrs. David Brooks, president of the Noon-Day Opti-Mrs. Club, welcomed 27 members at a luncheon meeting held Monday at Charlie's Restaurant.

The invocation was given by Mrs. David Parish and the Opti-Mrs. Creed was recited by Mrs. Gene Nelson.

The president announced the 1976-77 slate of officers presented at the January meeting was elected. The installation will be part of a social evening in March with Optimist Club members as guests.

Games were played during the afternoon with prizes going to Mrs. Robert Brave, Mrs. David Brooks, Mrs. Floyd Mitchell and Mrs. Elmer Branding.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Milton Allen, Mrs. Harold Fischer, Mrs. Russell Johnson, Mrs. Parrish and Mrs. Ernest Veith.

Carol Walker becomes Mrs. Brian Rambeaux

The wedding of Miss Carol Sue Walker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard R. Walker, 1635 Third St., Madison, and Brian R. Rambeaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Rambeaux of Clarendon Hills, Ill., was solemnized on Jan. 24 at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. was the Rev. David Maxton.

Mrs. Isabel Schmidt presided at the organ as Judy Lavelle and Diana Hackethal sang "The Wedding Song" and "Treasures."

For her wedding, the former Miss Walker selected an off-white muslin gown designed with an oval neckline, edged with lace. The empire waist was encircled with a sash, tied in the back.

Beige ribbon and lace formed a bib effect on the bodice and accented the cuffs of the long sleeves.

She wore a floral headpiece to hold in place a melody-length veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations with touches of pink and green blossoms.

Honor attendant Miss Carol R. Fredericks and bridesmaid Miss Linda E. Walker, a sister of the bride, were attired in floral gowns in shades of green and pink.

A ribbon and lace trim enhanced the round neckline, yoke and long sleeves.

They carried bouquets of carnations in hues to match their dresses.

Miller Brinson attended the groom as best man. Matthew C. MacFadden Jr. served as groomsmen.

Thomas Walker, a brother of the bride, and David Meyer, the bride's cousin, seated the guests.

A reception was given in the church fellowship hall immediately following the service.

Miss Kathleen Rambeaux, a sister of the groom, attended the guest book.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride graduated in 1973 from Madison High School and attended Blackburn College in Carlinville for two years.

A graduate of Hinsdale South High School, the groom also Love Circle to aid members

A report on the executive meeting of the United Methodist Women was given by Mrs. Ramsey. She added members are to bring canned food to the church for distribution to the needy families in the church.

It was suggested that the Women's Society sponsor a junior league of girls to attend the general meetings and participate in their activities.

Plans also were discussed for the group to form a prayer chain for the benefit of ill and bereaved and to observe the World Day of Prayer on March 5 sponsored by the Quad-City Church Women United.

Unit enables use of kidney machine

Use of kidney machine for a period of 41 hours by a person suffering with a kidney disease has been made available through efforts of Amvets Auxiliary 51, Mrs. Jackie Petras, president, reported at an auxiliary meeting last week at the Amvets Post Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Unit members were able to complete the hours by collecting tabs from soft drink containers, Mrs. Petras said.

Chaplain Trudy McGowan gave the opening prayer and the pledge of allegiance was repeated in unison.

In the business session, Mrs. Betty Wilkins, Americanism chairman, reported distributing "American Heritage" booklets to Browne Troop 432 at Parkview School.

A Bicentennial flag has been donated by Mrs. Agnes Conkovich for use at auxiliary meetings, Mrs. Petras announced.

Plans for a bake sale on March 13 at Konyak's Market were reviewed and clothing items, donated to a needy family for a newborn infant, were delivered, it was reported.

Table coverings and appointments reflected a Bicentennial theme. Miniature flags were used as centerpieces.

An Italian dinner was served to members by Mrs. Charlene Sanders and Mrs. Petras, hostesses, after the business session. Mrs. Petras received the white elephant prize.

Hollywood's Marvin Miller at cancer ball

Marvin Miller, best remembered for his role as Michael Anthony in "The Millionaire," a weekly series that ran for 11 years on the CBS-TV network, will be guest celebrity from Hollywood at the new Ramada Inn in Alton, where patrons will meet Miller and other distinguished guests.

The gala event will take place Saturday, Feb. 28, at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant Ballroom in East Alton.

Patron and ball ticket information may be obtained by contacting the Cancer Society's office, 528 Henry St., Alton, or by calling 1-465-2120.

Prior to the ball, which is from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., there will be a special cocktail party at the new Ramada Inn in Alton, where patrons will meet Miller and other distinguished guests.

Patrons are those who make a $75 donation to the Cancer Society, which also entitles them to attend the ball. The dance donation is $30 per couple.

A native of St. Louis, Miller attended high school and Washington University there. He started his career in radio while still an undergraduate and ultimately worked with such "greats" as Red Skelton, Rudy Vallee, Frank Sinatra, Burns and Allen and Ed Gardner of "Duffy's Tavern."

He has appeared in numerous movies with such stars as James Cagney, George Raft, Bob Hope and other film greats.

In 1963, Miller made six films for the Japanese government and in 1969 appeared in "Is This Trip Really Necessary?"

Miller narrated "Agony and the Ecstasy" and Walt Disney films "Sleeping Beauty" and "Wonderful World of Color."

On television he was "number two voice" to Jim Bacus in the famous Mr. Magoo adventures and recorded "Green Eggs and Ham" and "Fox in Socks," which won him the Grammy award in 1965 for best children's album and "Dr. Seuss Presents," winner of his second Grammy in 1969.

His stage credits include "Dial M for Murder," "Harvey," "Henry VIII" and "Our Town." He has made over 15,000 broadcasts for charitable organizations, mostly to benefit the Cancer Society.

Miller's wife is the former Elizabeth Dawson. She is a painter, writer and photographer. They have two children and one grandchild.

Ollie Raymond, weatherman on Channel 4's Newsroom program, will serve as master of ceremonies at the ball. Also a guest will be Mel Gray, wide receiver for the St. Louis Football Cardinals.

Music for dancing will be played continuously by the Bill Bernes Orchestra and the Mississippi Mudcats Dixieland band, featuring Jack Kittrell, vocalist and honky-tonk pianist.

Pontoon provides for emergency purchasing

An ordinance empowering Pontoon Beach Village Board President Floyd D. Moss or Village Clerk Mary Warren to make emergency purchases of up to $1,500 without competitive bidding was approved by the village board at its regular meeting during the weekend.

The ordinance does not specify what is to be considered an emergency situation. Neither does it require that prices be obtained from more than one dealer, when possible.

In addition to the president and the clerk, the ordinance allows "persons expressly authorized by ordinance or resolution of the Pontoon Beach Village Board" to make such purchases.

The board passed a resolution requiring paint stores in the village to purchase a $25 annual business license. A paint sales business at the home of Walter R. and Ruby Prince was annexed into the village at the board's last meeting.

On the recommendation of the Village Zoning Board of Appeals, the board denied a special use permit to Terrell Johnson, 3834 Lake St., who had applied for a permit to operate a beauty shop in his home. There were several objectors present at the village board meeting.

Duane Skinner, chairman of the village's finance committee, was authorized to purchase a check protector machine from Graham's Book Store.

Skinner gave a report on the village's new insurance policy which covers changes required by the state's new Workmen's Compensation law.

A new work for soprano, string orchestra, and harp, especially composed for this program by James Woodard, professor of music at SIUE, will be presented for the first time.

The piece, a fantasy on three songs of Stephen Foster, is entitled "Dream Songs of Stephen Foster." The songs include: "I Dream of Jeanie," "Beautiful Dreamer," "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," "Sarah Turner is the soprano soloist. The Bicentennial program will be taken on tour during March and April. The concert will be presented at the Cultural Civic Center in Marion, March

Scuba class at Y

A basic scuba class will start Wednesday, Feb. 25, at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave. The class will meet on Wednesdays from 6:30 p.m. until 10:30 p.m.

The first two hours of each session will be spent in the classroom and the remaining two hours of each session will be spent in the pool learning the basics of skin diving and diving. Skin diving is the use of mask, fins and snorkel only, while scuba diving is the use of self contained underwater breathing apparatus. Sport divers use only air tanks which contain compressed air, which is what students will be trained to safely use in this class, according to Debbie Holt.

Upon successful completion of the course and open water diver training, students will be certified by the Professional Association of Diving Instructors and will be issued a certification card which shows that they are a certified "independent open water diver."

This card can be presented anywhere in the world by the person and full diving privileges will be granted. Without this certification card, a person is unable to obtain scuba equipment from shops and in certain cases around the coastal areas would not be permitted to rent or borrow a diving boat. The Professional Association of Diving Instructors certification card is one of five which are accepted worldwide, the instructor said.

After certification as an "international open water diver," students may go on to become certified as an "advanced open water diver," a "dive master," and "advanced diver," and "assistant instructor," and after much training and taking a nation wide course, can be certified as an "underwater instructor" through the association.

Persons who wish to take the class need not be expert swimmers. A basic knowledge of the water and swimming ability is required before a person can take the course, said. Persons wanting information about the course may contact the YMCA at 876-7200. All equipment for use in the class will be provided. Students need only to purchase a snorkel and bring their swim suits. Information about club trips may be obtained by calling 344-0333.

Tax checklist can speed preparation of returns

For those who wait until April 15 to start figuring their income tax, and then get confused in the rush, the Illinois State Bar Association has devised a brief checklist to point out some of the most questioned items and to help taxpayers avoid problems with their returns.

"If you haven't mailed your return yet, you might use the checklist as a guide in filling in the blanks," a spokesman said. The suggestions follow:

1. Read instructions carefully. Computing both the federal and state returns may seem like an awesome chore, but remember that the state tax is based on the adjusted gross income figure from your federal return. The federal return should be completed first.
2. Review your checkbook and paid receipts to collect records of all possible deductions.
3. If you have itemized deductions greater than the allowable standard deduction, obtain Schedules A and B and any other applicable forms and instructions from the Internal Revenue Service. Many forms are available at the post office, and others must come from an IRS office.
4. If you itemize, remember to deduct last year's Illinois income tax, other applicable taxes, health care expenses above a certain percentage of your adjusted gross income, interest payments, charitable contributions, certain casualty losses, and such things as union dues, the cost of special work clothing, educational expenses incurred to improve your performance on the job, and child or dependent care under certain conditions.
5. If you paid alimony, it is deductible. And if you received alimony, it is reportable as income. Child support payments are not deductible for the person making them, nor are they reportable as income for the spouse receiving them on behalf of minor children.
6. These deductions cannot be claimed separately on the Illinois return.
7. Carefully read the bottom half of Form 1040. After you have computed the tax you owe, there is a $30 credit for each exemption you claim (for a family of four, this amounts to $120). There are also other credits which may apply to substantially reduce your actual tax.
8. Carefully check and recheck your arithmetic, and make sure all applicable blanks are filled in correctly. The IRS reports that the majority of mistakes that delay the processing of returns are small technical errors.
9. Remember to attach the necessary W-2 forms to both the federal and state returns.
10. If you have any questions, contact the Internal Revenue Service or seek professional assistance.

Homemakers plan drive for members

Patriotic floral arrangements decorated tables for the 1976 membership drive kickoff of the Madison County Extension Association, held in mid-February in the County Extension office.

Second vice-chairmen in charge of membership from 31 county units, district vice-chairmen and county HEA board members attended the opening program, which set as the goal a boost in Extension office.

membership from the present 1,947 to 1,137. The Cooperative Extension Service offers programs in home economics and agriculture to interested persons, rural and urban, regardless of race, color or national origin, as a service of the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Wayne Reller, Edwardsville, membership chairman and Madison County HEA second vice-president, formally opened the membership drive and presided at the brunch. She introduced the theme for the drive, "We're Not Getting Older, We're Getting Better," and spoke on membership qualifications within units.

Mrs. Reller explained that units are competing for honors in obtaining the most new members from March 1 to April 30.

Winning unit membership chairmen will receive a trip to the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation annual meeting in March at the University of Illinois campus in Urbana-Champaign.

Units with ten or more new members for the year will be judged winner units.

Mrs. Udell Wehling, Alhambra, IHEP District Eight director, spoke on the heritage of Home Economics Extension in Madison County, stressing this is the 40th year.

Mrs. Reller outlined opportunities associated with membership in the Homemakers organization. They include: sponsorship of 4-H clubs, providing leaders and other assistance; companionship with other women interested in education; homemaking skills, and personal as well as community betterment.

Also cited were benefits in self-improvement through planned lessons in food preparation, nutrition, health, safety, family relations, child development and discipline, home furnishings, budgeting, clothing construction and cultural arts.

Another feature is the cultural arts program, which has included pinecone wreaths, creative stitchery, plastic bottle crafts and numerous Christmas ideas.

Through units in the each community, women learn of state and national homemaker actions, including cooperation with the International Associated Country Women of the World.

Also speaking was Catherine R. Mauck, extension adviser, who stressed that Homemakers Extension meetings are open to anyone who wishes to attend; attendance is not by invitation only.

Girl Scout Week set March 7-13

Plans are underway by area Brownie and Girl Scout troops to celebrate "Girl Scout Week," set March 7 to March 13, following the theme, "You Belong," according to the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

The council office suggested that many preparations can be made for the worldwide observance, including troops attending church services together, hosting father-daughter or mother-daughter banquets, or taking part in beautifying a part of their town with tree or flower plantings.

Another event of interest scheduled in March is the "Light Flames of Freedom" ceremony on March 12.

Plans for the ceremony originated at the Girl Scouts' national convention opening when First Lady Betty Ford lighted a torch and all council presidents followed by lighting individual tapers from the torch.

The tapers were then taken back to the respective councils to continue the observance with district chairmen, neighborhood chairmen and troop leaders following the service.

Troop leaders will light a candle for each girl in her troop and every Girl Scout will then light a candle, wherever she is, at 5 p.m. Friday, March 12.

Film to be shown

The film "A Man and His Men," the story about Tom Landry and the Dallas Cowboys, will be shown at the Central Free Methodist Church, 4150 South St., Ponton Beach, Sunday at 6 p.m. "A Man and His Men" takes a penetrating look at people involved in the world of professional football. "The film portrays the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat. It takes a penetrating look at a Christian coach and his impact on other people. It talks about faith. It gives young men and old an example of what being a Christian really is," the Rev. Eugene Stevenson, pastor, said.

The Central Free Methodist Church has been showing Gospel films on the next to the last Sunday evening of each month.

The pastor has invited the public to attend.

River Bluffs Council officers said, "The flames of freedom symbolize our pledge that Girl Scouts will carry forward the light of freedom for all people as we enter our nation's third century."

Another event of interest for area Brownie and Girl Scouts is the current theater and dance schedule at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, which includes the Mother Goose Suite, arranged for children. It was reported.

Performances will be April 1 at 10:30 a.m.; April 2 and 3 at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m.; and April 4 at 2:30 p.m. Admission cost for adults is $2, high school students, $1 and children under 12, fifty cents.

For more information troop leaders are invited to contact: Director of Group Sales, Department of Theater and Dance, Box 720, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill., 62025, or phone 1-492-2773.

Special education review for Pi Eta

Mrs. Charlotte Charbonnier, 2328 Dwight Ave., president of Pi Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, entertained the members at the February business meeting Monday night.

Plans were finalized for a "get acquainted" party designed for new members and scheduled in April. Members also made tentative arrangements for a family social in March.

After the business session Mrs. Vivian Dine, guest speaker, described the special education program in the Granite City School District. She reviewed the progress made through the years up to the present program now available to area children.

Others attending were Judy Onesty, Beverly Bennett, Betty Beck, Wanita Graham, Jerry Turner, Barbara Kennerly and Mary Ruth Snelson.

GUYS ARE STOLEN Several revolvers, rifles and shotguns were among the items stolen during a burglary at the home of Donald Doyle, 2805 Myrtle Ave., it was reported at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday. The rear door was forced open and the house was ransacked. Also taken were a camera and a radio. Doyle said the guns were hidden in the attic and had to be reached by climbing through a hole in a closet ceiling.

Ex-resident devotes life to finding fair test for police job applicants

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
Dr. Marcella D. Woods, a former Granite City resident and the sister of Granite City Police Sergeant Richard Woods, is devoting her life to finding a fair and accurate way to test applicants for police jobs, but it has not been an easy task thus far.

Dr. Woods is assistant dean of the graduate school at the University of Washington, Seattle. She also is an assistant professor in the school of physical education and an adjunct assistant professor in the department of psychosocial nursing.

Much of her time since 1972 has been devoted to developing a set of criteria for testing the physical condition and agility of applicants for police positions—both men and women.

The result of her work has been the development of a series of tests—still undergoing rigid review—which has been termed the University of Washington Police Officer Physical Efficiency Battery, or POPEB.

Since the test was being used to determine eligibility for jobs, it became necessary for Dr. Woods to defend the fairness and accuracy of the test.

The POPEB has not been without its critics. Dr. Woods recognized this fact when she prepared a recent magazine article on the test for the February issue of Police Chief, the publication of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

The article begins with this introduction, "Warning: The POPEB is discriminating and may prevent you from being considered for employment. This warning now is given to everyone who takes the test."

The test received national publicity when a professional weight lifter took the test—and failed.

As Dr. Woods explains, each section of the test has minimum and maximum achievement levels, which, as she says in her article, "prevents an exceptionally strong person from passing a battery on the basis of doing well on one test only."

Agility and physical condition are as important as strength in scoring well on the test, she noted.

The POPEB has not received universal acceptance even from the police community. Thus far, it has been used by only a few departments and the results there are being watched closely.

In its greatest test thus far, 1,002 applicants for the Seattle Police Department started the test with 815 completing it 10 days later. Of those electing to finish the test, only 458, or 55 per cent, passed.

The Seattle Police Department will train 48 of those who passed, including one-third women and one-third from minority groups.

Dr. Woods and her team plan a long-term study of how those 48 perform at the police academy and how they rate against others in absenteeism, sick leave, injury, disability and pre-mature retirement.

They also will repeat the POPEB periodically to determine whether each officer is engaging in a systematic program of maintaining acceptable physical efficiency levels, according to Dr. Woods.

The results are expected to have great impact on whether the POPEB becomes well accepted as a method of testing police applicants across the country or whether it "goes down the drain" with numerous other previous testing programs.

The reason for establishing a fair and accurate physical efficiency test for police is summarized by Dr. Woods as follows:

"In-service opportunities and ongoing assessment must become a common practice if taxpayers' dollars are to be utilized judiciously and society serviced by highly able officers achieving longer years of productive service."

She adds, "It is imperative that standards at the entry level be such that they eliminate candidates within the 21 to 34 age range that demonstrate low levels of physical efficiency. There is no justification for hiring what may be considered a 'high risk' applicant."

The testing centers on four factors—body composition, cardiovascular functioning, arm and shoulder strength and agility.

Given the highest rating (30 per cent of the total score) is cardiovascular functioning in which the heart rate is tested before and after five minutes of sustained physical exercise. The exercise utilizes a standard speed and a work load based upon each person's weight and center of gravity.

Testing equipment and measuring of the rate of the heart beat at intervals after the exercise establish data showing the "recovery index" of each applicant's circulatory system, showing how rapidly it overcomes the work.

Modifications were necessary to eliminate sex bias and differences in the amount of work by persons with long or short arms or legs.

Twelve-five per cent of the test score comes from the agility testing, which is measured by how quickly the person being tested can complete a running course which requires "dodging, scaling and moving with assurance and effectiveness," according to Dr. Woods.

Upgrade street lights under 5-year program

Granite City council members agreed Monday night to inspect newly-installed street lights in a three-block section of the Nameoki area to determine if the revised street lighting meets their approval so that the Illinois Power Co. can proceed with other phases of the program.

An inspection of the area was agreed upon after Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second

Ward complained of "several dark spots" in one of the alleys and said that he was "not satisfied" with the lighting in some parts of the area designed as a "test project."

Steve Basarich, alderman of Ward Five and chairman of the council's Lights Committee who has spearheaded planning of a five-year program to upgrade street and alley lighting throughout the city, said he believed the new lighting is highly effective and that opinions of the aldermen are sought before proceeding with lighting revisions in other parts of the city.

Carl Mathias, service area manager of Illinois Power in Granite City, attended the council session and spoke briefly. He said the company is ready "to move into other areas" with the upgrading program. He said the program is designed to give the city a greater quality of light.

"We are trying to give the city the most that we can for the city's dollar," Mathias said. Basarich asked that the aldermen check out the completed phase of the new lighting system and to make any suggestions they may have so that the program can proceed.

The area in which revised street lighting has been completed is located between St. Clair and Faith Avenues and Myrtle and Warren Avenues. The area previously had 42 4,000-lumen incandescent alley lights and 26 6,000-lumen incandescent street lights.

These were upgraded to 45 11,000-lumen mercury vapor street lights and 27 7,300-lumen mercury vapor alley lights.

The new lighting program was initiated last October at Basarich's request. The program calls for upgrading lighting systems in various parts of the city over a five-year period.

Some taxpayers eligible for earned income tax credit

Cong. Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Ill.) this week advised area residents that many of them might have a check coming from the Internal Revenue Service this year under the "Earned Income Credit" program of the Tax Reduction Act of 1975.

Price explained that workers whose total income for the year was less than $8,000 might have as much as $400 in tax credit due them. For individuals with incomes up to $4,000, the refundable credit is 10 per cent of their earned income only, to a maximum of $400.

Workers with income between $4,000 and $8,000 also are entitled to the credit, Cong. Price said, but the amount of the credit decreases on a sliding scale, $1 for every $10 in earned income or gross income over $4,000.

For those earning over $8,000 no credit is allowable. Other requirements include that the taxpayer has maintained a home in the U.S. for the entire year for themselves and at least one dependent child under 19 or a full-time student.

"It is important to remember that the only way to receive the credit is to file a tax return for 1975, even if the worker is not ordinarily required to file," Cong. Price said.

"Information on how to claim the credit is included in the tax package received by those who filed a 1974 return."

Other individuals who feel they would qualify for the credit should contact the nearest IRS office for a copy of Publication 596, "Tax Benefit for Low-Income Individuals and for the necessary forms and instructions."

For those earning over $8,000 no credit is allowable. Other requirements include that the taxpayer has maintained a

Rep. Steele, Mrs. McDonald seek 2 GOP House nominations

State Representative Everett G. Steele is one of two candidates for two Republican nominations to the Illinois House in the March 16 primary election.

The Glen Carbon resident says, "I hope to continue to be able to represent the people of the 56th District for another term."

"I believe there is a real need for fiscal responsibility in state government."

"We must live within our means, and state government spending must be kept within a balanced budget."

"I have appreciated the opportunity to work on behalf of the people of our district as their state representative for the past 14 months."

"Some of these legislative efforts—in the area of fire protection for unincorporated areas, and in the removal of hidden liens from residential property—have now become law."

"Other efforts—commenced in the field of investigating the use of state-owned cars, and upgrading health standards for the protection of the public in eating establishments—I hope to see through to successful completion."

"During the past year, I have made a special effort to keep close to the views and problems of the people of the 56th District."

"Since May 23, I have visited each community in the district at periodic intervals with my mobile office," Steele said.

Steele is believed to be the first legislator in Illinois to maintain a mobile office which he provides at his own expense.

In addition, he maintains legislative offices at his residence and in Alton and Granite City. Constituents may call on his offices from any area in the district without charge.

Rep. Steele serves as a member of the House Appropriations Committee, the House Transportation Committee and the Higher Education Committee. He also has been appointed to the Legislative Council.

Throughout the past summer, Steele served as a member of the House Transportation Subcommittee studying Department of Transportation policies, procedures and practices regarding maintenance and improvement of the Illinois highway system.

Mrs. Eva Giltner McDonald

Alton, regards herself as an "independent Republican candidate" for state representative in District 56.

"I am a graduate of the University of Illinois. With six years of college, I feel I am qualified to critically analyze situations and then make a favorable decision," she says.

"Since I've taught the sixth grade for 33 years in Alton, I have worked with the public in many capacities in several different arenas."

"Being active in church work at the College Avenue Presbyterian Church as a trustee, then as an elder and now as a deacon, not to mention many years in the Sunday school and youth groups, I believe this reveals another area of dedication."

"I'm past president of the American Association of Childhood Education as well as the American Association of University Women of Alton and have served as chairman of several committees in the Business and Professional Women's Club as well as Delta Kappa Gamma."

"I've had a very active role in the Alton Education Association, Illinois Education Association and National Education Association," Mrs. McDonald comments.

"Much of my life has been oriented to public service. In this capacity, I have met a variety of people and discussed issues of the day. I have traveled extensively and am interested in gardening, photography and flower arranging."

"I feel that equal opportunities must be made available for all. Along with these opportunities come responsibilities. Therefore, I think women should be willing to accept responsible positions in the political field."

"It is time women became involved in political aspects of the government at all levels. Women have accepted responsible positions but we must be willing to respond to many problems. There should be equality for all. Life is too short to be small," Disraeli said.

"I would like priorities to be established preceding any budget. Educational opportunities should be expanded. As an educator, I would give education top priority.

"The welfare and dignity of senior citizens must be established and preserved. I recommend exempting them from all sales tax as well as property taxes."

"I would favor a graduated income tax to reduce or replace the property tax."

"Small, independent shops and businesses are vital to the unique growth of our state."

"Since I'm taking early retirement from teaching this year, I will give full time to being a representative. I think legislators should be paid monthly and be prohibited from holding a second government job for pay, or any other job."

"It seems that better planning was done at the state level when there were biennial budgeting sessions, therefore, I favor it."

"I am not aligned with any state or national candidate who is seeking election in 1976."

"I feel I'm ready to meet the challenge of a state position and I'd like to work for the people as their representative in Springfield."

"I live with my husband, William, at 3421 Gary, Alton."

"I grew up in Southern Illinois, Brookport, in a family of six. I'm the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Giltner of Brookport."

Ending of tax ratio could worsen state's tax climate

Five pending legislative proposals are causing consternation among small and large businesses in Illinois. The Assembly bills could lead to eliminating the current fixed 8-to-5 ratio between corporate and individual income tax rates in Illinois. Changing the ratio would involve a state constitutional amendment submitted to voters.

If there is early action on House Joint Resolutions 22, 23, 24 or 31 or Senate Joint Resolution 31, the question can go on the Nov. 2 general election ballot. Approval then would pave the way for unlimited tax increases on Illinois firms.

On the surface, the plan to finance massive increases in government spending with a tax hike applied only to corporate profits may appear attractive. But, as somebody said long time ago, there really isn't a "free lunch."

Adverse state policies of the 1970s have contributed to loss of many existing and potential Illinois employers, raising the serious question of competing with other states for economic and job growth. And this is the case even with the present 8-5 tax ratio.

If a major new impediment is placed on business activity, the losers seem sure to include not only the affected companies but also wage earners who can't work at non-existent plants and corporate and individual taxpayers who can't share the tax burden with non-existent firms.

Whatever happens to self-reliance?

By RICHARD L. LESHNER
President
Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Have our political leaders become parent substitutes for us? That question grows important with opinion polls showing people are disillusioned and bitter because "most politicians don't really care about me."

Is that what we want in our representatives? Benevolent, god-like father (or mother) figures in Washington to run our lives and protect us from all harm? If so, we're in big trouble.

"Government," as former Senator Sam Ervin said, "is a parasite." No group of men was ever more aware of the truth of that statement than our Founding Fathers.

The revolution was fought to escape one oppressive government; the Constitution and the Bill of Rights were carefully drafted to insure our falling victim to another.

The operative premise in those earlier days was that free people take care of themselves if government was prevented from interfering.

Today, we are standing that philosophy on its head. Many are no longer willing to accept personal responsibility for their own well-being.

Our individual failings are attributed to the actions of others. "Society" is blamed, or "these troubled times" are the cause.

progressively less willing to ascribe responsibility to the individual, it grows less able to hold anyone accountable for anything.

We speak of a proliferation of new "rights": The right to food, housing, medical care, income, employment. And not just "employment," but "meaningful" employment at a "decent" wage.

What's wrong with providing necessities to those in need? Nothing. A compassionate society ought to make an effort to alleviate suffering.

But speaking of a "right" to economic goods and services creates a dangerous illusion, an illusion that these things are a part of our natural endowment.

They are not. Before food can be eaten, it must be grown; before housing can be occupied, it must be built.

Before wealth can be created, "redistributed," it must be created.

These things do not happen by accident. Divine intervention, or act of Congress. They happen because people make individual decisions in their own effort, their capital, or both, to produce something.

A society that denies its producers the rewards earned by their initiative and responsibility hazards both moral and fiscal bankruptcy.

The producers will stop producing, and there will be little left to transfer to the nonproductive.

Finding the proper balance between charity and incentive is not easy, and the penalties for a mistake are heavy, as the British have discovered.

Thomas Jefferson made plain his own priority of economic rights in 1816. It's worth reviewing now.

"To take from one," he wrote, "because it is thought that his own industry and that of his father's has acquired too much, in order to spare to others, who or whose fathers have not exercised equal industry and skill, is to violate arbitrarily the first principle of association: the guarantee to every one of a free exercise of his industry, and the fruits acquired by it."

Abortions end life, involve danger

To the Editor: I was appalled by your article on the front page of your Feb. 16 paper about the "abortion mill" in Granite City. I do not recall ever seeing anything anti-abortion on the front page.

It may be called the Hope Clinic for Women but there certainly is no hope for babies who are murdered.

Some people always refer to it as a fetus being aborted. Why do they never say a human life was aborted. Maybe it eases their conscience not to refer to it as a human being or a baby, but that is exactly what it is.

They want you to believe it is perfectly safe to have an abortion because it is done under sterile conditions by well-known doctors instead of secretly in a back room somewhere.

There is still danger at the time of the abortion and also it can endanger future pregnancies. I wonder if women are counseled in these facts. I doubt it very much.

There is one "myth" I wish could be cleared up. It seems that most people believe the anti-abortion movement is strictly a Catholic movement. This is not true. You need not be a Catholic to be against murder of an unborn child.

Even since the "March for Life" at Washington, D. C., on Jan. 22 of this year, the majority of politicians are taking the "middle of the road" stand on this issue. Even our President tries to put it on someone else's shoulders.

Why not admit that they are human, that they made a decision when they made abortion legal, and then do something to correct that mistake? I for one think more of a person when they can admit they made a mistake and then do something to correct it, instead of putting it on someone else's shoulders.

How many of us just sit back and said to ourselves, "They will never make abortion legal." Let's hope we don't all talk just to ourselves when they try to pass the "Euthanasia Bill."

We must all do our part to see that one mistake is corrected and that another mistake is not made.

It can be done with just a short note to one's senators, congressman and anyone else holding public office. Let's let them know we are against taking the life of an unborn child.

Crossing delays discourage visitor

To the Editor: We enjoy driving to Granite City to eat. There are many good places.

Today (Feb. 15) is the last trip. We waited 45 minutes for a train going by the Granite City Steel plant. Also, we had the same experience earlier in week.

I realize we need trains, but it looks like the police or somebody could stop these long tie-ups.

Growing pressure on school district funds, procedures

Inflation and enrollment patterns for some time have been putting schools in a squeeze, making efficiency and effectiveness harder to achieve. The pressure continues to build, with Illinois administrative and judicial decisions reducing state aid volume well below the levels promised and budgeted for 1975-76.

New pressure on such school districts as Madison is being generated by the State Education Board's decision to place additional teeth into its minority student rules.

The guidelines include keeping each school within 15 per cent of the minority composition of the entire district, and having the composition of the faculty and staff at each school substantially reflect that of the school system as a whole.

Forfeitures are planned in late February, with districts given 90 days to submit revised plans, devised with the help of a cross-section of citizens. New intermediate punitive steps, including one-year probation, may lead to withholding of all state and federal funds, it was pointed out.

Districts can be based on parent-pupil choices, such as voluntary busing, but they must also be a backup plan not allowing choices if voluntary procedures fail, the State Education Board decided Feb. 12 by a 12-1 vote.

Some of the highlights:

READER'S DIGEST: "Are larger locks really needed? Not according to a recent Department of Transportation study, which says the railroads, 'given modest additional investment, can handle whatever the locks can't.'"

FACT: The Department of Transportation (DOT) did not specify what this "modest" additional investment would be. The Corps estimated that this would require $5 billion in additional investment alone.

Meanwhile, without any track record to show for actually cutting down expenditures in the welfare area, Walker continues to say he's clearing the ineligible from the rolls.

The unemployment problem and poor economic conditions are given as the excuse for swelling rolls. The Public Aid Department presumably doesn't have the manpower and investigative or administrative strength to do an effective job of clearing eligibles from the list.

This difficult problem area and lack of solutions by the Walker administration raise serious doubts as to whether he has been an effective governor worthy of retention.

"Our long-range energy goal has to be the substitution of coal and uranium for oil and gas in as many instances as possible."

"Although large industry could, in fact, use coal for boiler fuel and for the generation of electricity, these uses become economically unfeasible when we consider compliance with environmental laws."

"Uranium, of course, requires so much capital in order to build a plant to utilize that source of energy that it is not practical or feasible for use by large industry."

"The solution then seems to be to have public utility utilities use these reserves of coal and uranium to meet the energy needs not only of industry but of the general public."

"One use of coal that has received much publicity recently is that of coal gasification. We at Illinois Power are participating with several groups whose purposes are to make a commercially feasible coal gasification process."

"Several processes have been proposed by the laboratory experiments and tests in pilot plants, but to date no one has built a plant which will work on a large scale."

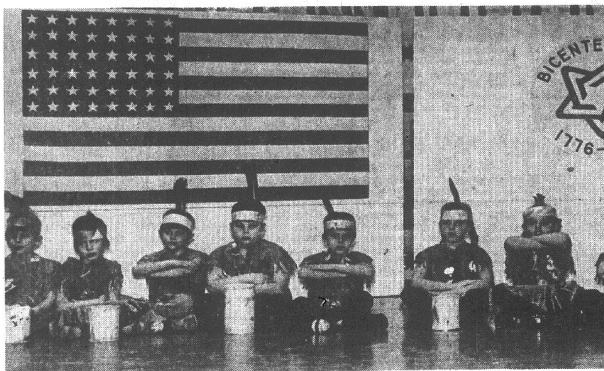

"Based on my knowledge of what has been done to date, I am not at all encouraged that there will be a viable solution to our energy problem."

BAC board creates working cash fund

The Belleville Area College Board of Education voted at its regular meeting yesterday to increase taxes about one cent per $100 of assessed valuation to create an $800,000 working cash fund.

The board also tabled a proposal to increase tuition which is not expected to be reconsidered until June. The BAC Board president, Dr. William Keel, said the action to create a working cash fund was necessary in order that funds available, should any budget exceed its appropriations.

Formerly we could borrow money from our site and construction fund, but with Phase Three of our expansion and construction underway, these funds will not be available to use for borrowing this year," Dr. Keel explained.

The one cent appropriation will create a revolving fund from which money can be borrowed for other funds, but must be repaid at the end of the fiscal year.

Dr. Keel noted the tax rate for BAC formerly was more than 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, but decreased to the present 18.09 cents when the district was expanded to include the Quad-City area.

"Even with the additional penny of tax, our tax rate will still be below our tax rate before the district was expanded," Dr. Keel commented.

He said the board has been carefully considering an increase in tuition of about $2 per semester hour, from $9 to $11, which would cost full-time students about $60 per year.

At its last meeting, the board studied the district's anticipated income for the year and requested Dr. Keel to return with information on the anticipated expenditures.

After studying the "unknowns" in the district's financial picture for the upcoming school year, it was voted to table action on a tuition hike until later this year, when some of the questions will be answered, Dr. Keel said.

The primary factor will be the level of state funding for higher education. The legislature and governor are not expected to complete their action on higher education funding until about June.

If the board is to have a tuition increase, it must be approved by July, so registration can begin in August.

In other business, the board tabled action on creating a health service for the college. The financial questions were cited as the reason for withholding action on the health proposal, offered by Dr. Keel.

In November, the board received a petition bearing the signatures of about 1,000 students and residents, requesting a health service be established.

Two requests for sabbatical leaves were denied by the board as members said they did not know if there would be sufficient funds to replace the two instructors during the leaves.

The board's next meeting will be March 17.

"Billboards are being erected at various locations, and the group welcomes offers from anyone willing to donate a place," a spokesman told the Press-Record.

"We are compiling pertinent statistics that emphasize that an abortion is not the safe, minor procedure it is often portrayed to be.

"Many times, women are not advised of the dangers of an abortion. The following statistics are from countries where follow-up studies are done:

"One out of 50 women suffer uterine perforation, and one out of 20 hemorrhages.

"One out of eight suffers menstrual disturbances, and one out of four becomes sterile. There is a 30 per cent increase in future spontaneous miscarriages after the first trimester abortion," the spokesman said.

The local fight to life group was represented by Mrs. Vicki Jacobs at the national "right to life" march held Jan. 22 in Washington, D.C., in protesting the latest U.S. Supreme Court abortion ruling.

There has been picketing at various times by men and women, including a mass rally here Oct. 5 in observance of Respect for Life Week," the spokesman stated.

"A distress number is provided here for women having problem pregnancies. The Catholic Charities office can offer a wide range of services to women of all faiths, including counseling, clothes and financial aid. The office also can refer women to facilities in the area, with various affiliations, where unwed mothers can stay until their babies are born.

The office here also is one of two state licensed adoption agencies in the area.

"With the Granite City agency, couples wait from one to two years after application to receive an infant. Today, there are 16 couples on the waiting list.

$2.2 million levee budget is approved

A budget of $2,272,655 was given final approval by the trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District during a public hearing and special meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the district's office in East St. Louis.

The budget for the 1976 calendar year is $306,640 below the 1975 budget, but will not eliminate a substantial general fund deficit which the district has carried several years.

The new budget includes $345,000 in the general fund, a reduction of $165,000 below last year's general fund appropriations totaling $1,510,000.

The general fund budget includes $600,000 for project expenditures, down $25,000; $60,000 for engineering purposes, up $25,000; $450,000 for general maintenance, down $200,000; and $235,000 for administration, up $35,000.

The appropriation for payment of bond principal and interest was set at $732,655, a decrease of $147,640 below the 1975 figure of $880,295.

Other projected expenditures in separate tax accounts include $20,000 for liability insurance, up $5,000; $150,000 for municipal retirement, same as last year; and $25,000 for auditing, which also is unchanged from last year.

What may be one of the most important battles in the history of the Lutheran Church-Seminex is expected to be waged Friday and Saturday at the church's Southern Illinois District convention at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville.

Both clergy and delegate laymen at the convention will be asked to offer support for the moderate district president, Dr. Herman F. Neunaber, to oust him.

Madison man
faces 4 charges

Chris George Traicke, 52, of 1326 Rhodes St., was charged with unlawful possession of a firearm, theft by possession, and armed violence after he was arrested by Madison police at 12:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Traicke allegedly went to the home of his brother-in-law, Amos Millon, 1402 Washington St., where Traicke's wife was broke open the rear door and started to enter, police reported. Millon pushed Traicke back outside the house and Traicke reportedly pointed a gun at Millon and threatened him, according to authorities.

Police arrested Traicke at 12th Street and Alton Avenue, and said they found a .38 caliber snub-nosed revolver which he allegedly tried to conceal from the police. In making a check of the weapon, Madison police said they learned it had been stolen in St. Louis.

Judge A. A. Matossian set bond at $15,000, including $1,000 first cash, of new charges and $10,000 on the armed violence charge.

Traicke is being held at the Madison County Jail.

Madison man robbed in home

Mike Carly, 20, 1710 Market St., Madison, reported that he answered the door at 2:55 p.m. Wednesday and a man in what appeared to be a police-type uniform knocked him to the floor, kicked him and said, "Do you have any money?"

The strongarm robber was described as between 190 and 200 pounds, 23 to 25 years of age, with large afro style haircut, a scar above the left eye, and wearing what appeared to be a police uniform with light blue pants and a dark blue strip down the sides. BICENTENNIAL FLAGS at Mitchell School are being made by nearly every student and are being hung in the music room in honor of the Bicentennial. Mrs. Beverlee Williams, vocal music teacher, began the project and now has more than 369 flags of every description and material. The students may make any flag for periods between 1776 and 1976, and of any state or colony. The flags are on display during regular school hours. The special project has attracted the interest of many parents, according to school officials. There also is a scroll entitled "I am proud of America," which the students may sign if they wish.

Taxpayers may donate to presidential campaigns

Taxpayers may designate $1 of their 1975 federal income tax, or $2 on a joint return, to the Presidential Election Campaign Fund. However, the 1975 return is the last one on which taxpayers may contribute money to the fund for use in the 1976 Presidential election.

Taxpayers have designated approximately $62.1 million for the fund since the income tax dollar check-off procedure was initiated on 1972 returns. About $31.9 million of the total came from designations on 1974 returns.

Every individual, except a non-resident alien, may contribute if he or she has a tax liability of $1 or more. For joint returns, the tax liability must be at least $2 in order for both taxpayers to make a designation. Wives and husbands may make different choices concerning whether they want to contribute.

Ira S. Loeb, IRS district director for Central and Southern Illinois, pointed out that participating in the check-off neither increases the amount of tax owed nor decreases any refund due. All money designated comes from tax liability and goes into a special fund to be distributed to eligible Presidential candidates.

Ricco II hearing delayed

The Illinois Liquor Control Commission notified Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler this week that a scheduled Feb. 23 hearing on the liquor license of Ricco's II Lounge, 3675 rear Nameoki Road, has been postponed indefinitely.

The commission noted the reason for the postponement was that the owner, Anthony Augustine of Belleville, is ill and would not be able to attend. Schuler was told he will be notified when a new date for the hearing is set.

Schuler, acting as the city's liquor control commissioner, ordered the lounge's license revoked following a fatal shooting in the parking lot Dec. 8. Augustine appealed the repeal order to the state commission which ordered that the lounge be allowed to operate during the appeal period.

Arthur Moore heads Madison firefighters

Arthur "Cooper" Moore was elected president of the Madison Volunteer Fire Company, Inc., at a business meeting held last week in the fireman's hall.

Other officers elected were: Elmer Smith, vice-president, and James Shipoff, secretary and treasurer. Smith is the retiring president.

Members of the board of directors elected are: Edie Rhoads, fire chief of Madison; Charles Voloski, Moore, Smith and Shipoff.

$600 theft in Wilson Park

Two men were seen loading a heavy item, believed to be a $300 floor jack, into a station wagon in Wilson Park near the ice rink warehouse at 9:40 p.m. Sunday.

After the men left, it was discovered the jack and a $300 chain saw had been stolen. A park employee said he noticed the vehicle and saw the men loading something which had been dragged from the warehouse. He said they then used a key to unlock the fence gate, drove through and locked the gate again.

Judo classes at Y

Len Fuchs, second degree black belt, again will conduct courses in judo and self defense at the Tri-City Area YMCA. For children age 6 and older, beginning classes will be held after school on Monday and Wednesday at 4 and 4:45 p.m.

Intermediate and advanced youngsters will meet on Monday and Wednesday from 7 to 8 p.m. Each class will meet twice a week for seven weeks. Youngsters in the intermediate and advanced class will have the opportunity of competing with other youngsters from other YMCA's and judo clubs if desired.

Plan YMCA swim program

The Tri-City Area YMCA will offer swimming lessons for youngsters age 6 and older. Classes are divided into ability levels such as: pollwog (beginner); minnow (advanced beginner); fish (intermediate); and advanced swimmer, according to Program Director Michael Tharp.

Mary Burns, head instructor, is a nationally certified YMCA specialist instructor in swimming. Phil Gac is the assistant instructor.

Other members of the aquatic staff include: Pete Nasir, lifeguard-instructor; Pete Mushill, volunteer instructor; Lisa Rudolph, lifeguard-instructor; and Michael Tharp, director.

Children's classes meet after school two days a week at 4 and 4:45 p.m. Classes will begin Monday, Feb. 23 and continue seven weeks, ending April 10. Fees are: "Y" members - free; non-members - $15 for seven weeks. There also will be a registration fee of $1 for non-members. Registration for all classes began Monday and will continue through Saturday. For more information, Quad-Cityans may stop by the Y at 2001 Edison or call 876-7200. The Y is a United Way Agency.

Instructional classes for adults will be held Monday evenings. Scuba classes will meet on Wednesday evenings. Swim Teams will meet daily and during various fitness and recreational swim times. Registration for all classes began Monday and will continue through Saturday. For additional information, Quad-Cityans may stop by the "Y" at 2001 Edison or call 876-7200. Cub Pack 47 displays original flags

An array of colorful flags which preceded the nation's current Stars and Stripes was carried by members of Cub Pack 47 at a morning mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison.

The occasion celebrated "National Boy Scout Month"

(February) and the start of "Catholic School Week."

In addition to the brilliant colors of the 11 original flags, the church was decorated with posters made by the school children focusing on the theme, "Count God In."

The Rev. Conrad Motola, O.F.M., who serves as executive officer for Cub Pack 47 and also as youth coordinator for St. Mary's Parish, celebrated the mass with two Cub Scouts as servers.

Flags displayed in the sanctuary included the Bedford, Bunker Hill, Washington Cruisers, First Continental Regiment, Grand Union, Moultrie, Gadsden, Rhode Island Regiment, Bennington, Betsy Ross and the First Navy Jack.

Cub Scouts chosen as flag bearers and escorts were Doug Roling, Michael Washenko, Mark Mainridge, Tommy Voloski, Larry Lybarger, Kurt Hylla, Jeff Bridick, Chris Nood, Alan Lewis, Paul Ragsdale, Billy Dorris, Eddy Zabolka and Gerald Werner.

Barbara Franch read an account of the development of the flags as each was carried into the church.

Pack 47 cubs and members of the pack's executive committee attended the service as a unit. Also in observance of "National Boy Scout Month," Cub Pack 47 arranged an exhibit for display at the First National Bank in Madison.

The Rev. Ralph Scherrer, O.F.M., is pastor of St. Mary's Church which sponsors Cub Pack 47.

Gardenaires view Lincoln display

The February meeting of the Gardenaires Garden Club was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mary Kristian. After the hostess served a dessert lunch to 11 members Mrs. Charles Kohl, president, conducted a brief business meeting.

The committee chairmen reporting included Mrs. A. A. Malotki on the mini-garden; Mrs. Al Tarpeff, conservation chairman; and Mrs. C. E. Eads for the nominating committee.

Mrs. Abe Shannon, cheer chairman, had the members present sign a card to be sent to Mrs. Roy Hornum, a member of the club, who is recovering from open heart surgery at a hospital in St. Louis.

Plans were reviewed for the formal presentation of a sign to be erected at the entrance of the Madison County Nature and Bike Trail. Mrs. Kohl and Mrs. Tarpeff are to meet with a representative from a nursery to finalize plans for planting the entrance area, they reported.

The origin, growing method and use of the vegetable, Swiss chard, was the subject of a general discussion.

As February is designated "Heritage" month on the club's calendar, the program committee arranged for members to visit the Lincoln Room in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Sternberg of Granite City.

Mrs. Sternberg and her husband, who is a recognized authority on Lincoln and historical facts of the Lincoln area, related interesting points of information concerning the many Lincoln artifacts displayed in their collection.

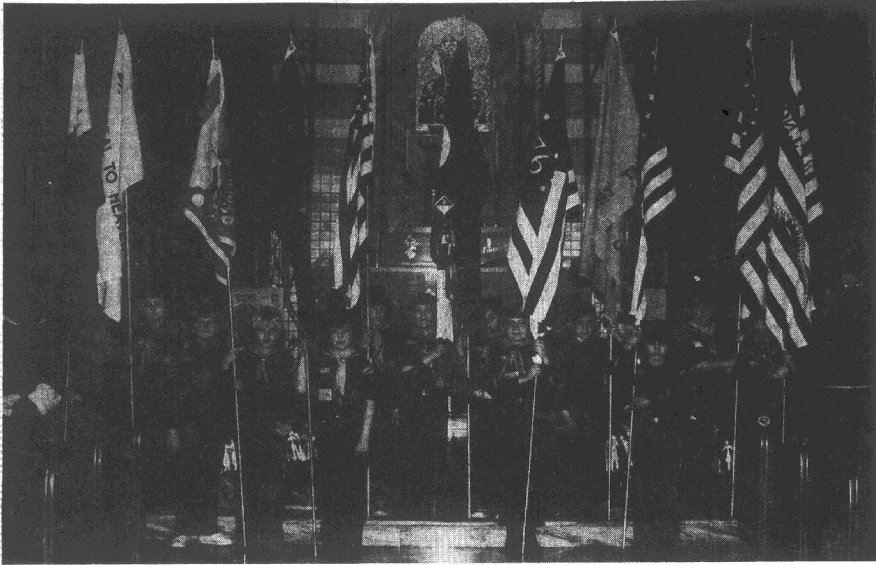

The annual meeting of the Gardenaires will take place in March at the home of Mrs. Kohl. A luncheon is planned, followed by the election and installation of 1976-77 officers. Mrs. Shannon will serve as co-hostess.

Also present at last week's meeting were Mrs. R. K. Hintz, Mrs. Earl Glenn, Mrs. Richard Kerch, Mrs. Thomas Layloff Jr., and Mrs. William Long.

State attorney general campaign beginning to heat up

SPRINGFIELD — Sparks are flying early in the fight between Senate President Cecil Partee and Ronald Stackler for the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

Stackler says Partee has conflicts of interest, lacks administrative experience and is economically and politically dependent upon Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and his organization.

"There are two respects in which he lacks qualifications," Stackler says of his opponent.

"I don't think he has experience for administering an office like attorney general. And I think his career, both politically and professionally, creates a background, a series of connections and involvements that don't make him qualified to represent all the people of the state of Illinois."

Stackler says he will detail those "connections and involvements" later in the campaign because he doesn't want to fire all his guns too early. He does say Partee "represents a variety of highly political, highly clout-oriented political interests."

Stackler is being backed in his bid by Gov. Dan Walker, who brought him into state government as director of the state Insurance Department and later named him as director of the Registration and Education Department.

But he contrasts his position with Walker to Partee's relationship to Daley by maintaining "Walker doesn't have an economic stranglehold on me" and "there is no way in the world Partee can exist without the Daley organization."

Stackler also says he doesn't expect to receive any financial help in his campaign either from the Walker-backed Illinois Democratic Fund or any other Walker campaign committee, regardless of its title. Stackler estimates the primary could cost $200,000 which he hopes to raise through solicitations but says he's not getting the list of contributors from the governor.

Lack of name recognition is one of his biggest drawbacks. And he hopes to counter it by taking a leave of absence from his state job to begin campaigning statewide. He's predicting Partee won't make the same effort.

Stackler is gearing for the campaign. He's hired a press aide—Tom Gradel, who has been working in public relations for about five months.

He's even shaved off his mustache, at least partially for political reasons: he doesn't want people to look at him and be reminded of Tom Dewey.

He plans to have a full schedule of handshaking and speaking engagements and expects Partee will sit in Chicago, expecting the Daley organization to carry him to victory.

Partee says Stackler is wrong on all counts, except possibly "special interests."

Partee says he has represented such special interests as funds for education, tax relief for senior citizens, education to avoid consumer rip-offs, care for the mentally ill and equal rights for all groups.

"I will gladly match my broad-based, progressive record against my opponent's tall talk and tiny record," Partee says.

As for administrative experience, Partee notes the Senate President is responsible for some 150 employees and a budget exceeding $2 million a year. Partee also pointed out he is a former Cook County assistant state's attorney.

The Senate president says he plans to campaign statewide and imagines few past legislative leaders can match his record for getting out of Springfield and Chicago and meeting people.

Partee also denies that he is a Daley puppet and says Stackler is "wedded to Gov. Walker, the person who brought him from California, gave him a government job and then told him he was going to run for attorney general."

Partee widely praised as president of Senate

State Senator Cecil A. Partee, 54, D-26th Dist., was selected by his Democratic colleagues at a Dec. 4, 1974, caucus to be 76th Session of the General Assembly, 1975-77. He seeks the March 16 Democratic nomination as attorney general.

His caucus nomination marked the third consecutive time that Senate Democrats had chosen Partee to be their party's chief spokesman in the upper legislative chamber.

After earning his spurs as a "backbencher" for 14 years in the legislature, Partee was selected in 1971 to be Senate president pro tempore and leader. He has been the first black in the U.S. to head a state legislative chamber since Reconstruction, he relates.

Democrats lost the Senate to Republicans two years later and Partee once again was selected by members of his party to be their leader, this time in the role of Senate minority leader.

With a Democratic majority in 1975, Partee again was named majority leader. Instead of president pro tem, he was to become Senate president — another historic first for blacks in this nation.

Running unopposed in the 1972 general election, Sen. Partee was re-elected from Chicago's 26th Illinois Legislative District. He began in January 1976 his 20th year in the General Assembly, having served 10 years in the House and 10 in the Senate.

Besides becoming the first modern-day black state legislative leader, Partee also was the first black in modern times to serve as chief executive of a state.

Until a Constitutional change was implemented in 1972, the pro tempore assumed the role of acting governor when both the governor and lieutenant governor were out of the state. Partee was acting governor on four separate occasions.

After his elevation to the pro tem post, operation of the Senate was streamlined and put on a more business-like basis, he believes.

"Committees were functionally consolidated and reduced to a manageable number; there was an increase in professional staffing and day-to-day administration of the Senate was upgraded and modernized. Additional reform has been initiated during my present term as president."

Born in Blytheville, Ark., on April 10, 1921, Sen. Partee was educated in Blytheville public schools and received a bachelor's degree in business administration at Tennessee State University in Nashville. He graduated cum laude, was president of his senior class and edited the school paper.

He went on to earn a law degree at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and later "distinguished himself as a state lawyer while serving as an assistant state's attorney of Cook County," associates relate.

During his tenure in the General Assembly, he has received various awards and honors, including "most outstanding freshman senator" in 1967 and "most effective senator" in 1971 — both awards bestowed on him by the "good government" groups in the state.

Northwestern University bestowed on his outstanding alumnus award in 1972. The same year, during ceremonies commemorating Chicago's 103rd birthday, he was presented a medal as one of Chicago's most prominent citizens and an outstanding leader in the fields of law, government and politics.

On June 16, 1973, Partee was chosen by the American Academy of Achievement as one of 50 Americans singled out as "gigants of accomplishment" in their fields. He received the Academy's golden plate award at its Salute to Excellence ceremonies in Chicago.

Sen. Partee practices law in Chicago, is engaged in the manufacturing of jewelry and is a member of the Chicago Ward Regular Democratic Organization of Chicago.

The senator is a member of several bar associations, belongs to civic and social organizations and is a member of the Park Manor Congregational Church. He is a member of the governing board of the Council of State Governments.

Partee and his wife, Paris, have two daughters, Paris and Cecile.

Another "first" for him occurred on Aug. 5, 1972, when the Illinois Democratic Caucus chose him to represent Illinois on the Democratic National Committee, a post he held three years.

The senator was the first black in Illinois history to serve on the state's delegation to the Democratic National Committee.

He was among six Illinoisans — three men and three women — elected to the national party organization and he was a key spokesman for Illinois Democrats at the party's 1974 mid-term convention in Kansas City, Mo.

In July 1973, Partee was elected chairman of the Illinois Economic and Fiscal Commission, a bipartisan panel of legislative leaders which has the major task of estimating the state's revenue each year and issuing an economic forecast for Illinois. The commission is considered one of the most important legislative agencies in state government. Partee held the post two years.

Recently on a tour of Israel and the Holy Land, he was made an honorary member of the Knesset (Israeli parliament).

Scott seeking third 4-year term in post

Still relatively young, 49, and with extensive governmental experience, William J. Scott, attorney general of Illinois, is unopposed March 16 for the Republican nomination to continue in that office.

Scott served as state treasurer from 1962 to 1966, and four-year terms as state attorney general in 1968 and 1972.

In many respects, he is regarded as the titular head of the Republican party in Illinois, although still somewhat of a rival of U. S. Senator Charles H. Percy.

A past confrontation bruised both. Each sought the 1964 gubernatorial nomination, with Scott losing a close primary race.

Although he won in the primary, Percy then lost to incumbent Gov. Otto Kerner, who gained a second four-year term in the executive mansion.

In 1966, Percy successfully ran for the U. S. Senate and has remained there ever since.

In the 1972 Republican landslide, Scott received the largest vote total, 2,285,095, compared to Percy's 2,246,047. Percy won in all 102 counties while Scott prevailed in 98 of 102 as they simultaneously won their Senate and attorney general races.

Politically, middle-of-the-road politically, Scott has closer ties to the conservative GOP wing than does Sen. Percy. But Scott has gained extensive moderate and liberal acclaim for his active role as attorney general.

During Scott's long tenure, he has broadened the interpretation of the attorney general's responsibilities and has sought to provide legal support for the "underdog," including state legal action to thwart Quad-City area fundraising activity alleged to involve misrepresentation.

He has filed numerous suits against groups and firms and has recovered large sums for local-level governmental agencies as well as for special financial accounts that were then put to use for varied constructive purposes.

A graduate of the Chicago-Kent College of Law in 1950, Scott was admitted to practice before the Illinois Supreme Court the same year and in 1957 was admitted to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Scott served under Robert T. Tienken as a special assistant U. S. attorney for the Northern District of Illinois in 1959, conducting a federal crackdown on crime syndicate operations in Calumet City.

During the four years he served as state treasurer, Scott initiated new investment policies for idle funds which resulted in record earnings.

For the first time in history, he used the deposit of state funds to help depressed areas and to aid the economy in disaster areas.

Scott served as a member of the Judges Retirement System and the Illinois Public Air Commission, as well as treasurer of the toll highway Commission and the Illinois Building Authority.

As the only Republican

WILLIAM J. SCOTT

member of the State Electoral Board, in 1965, he won a series of major legal decisions in both the Illinois and U. S. Supreme Courts which resulted in successful reapportionment of the Illinois state legislature.

He has been one of the most active state attorneys general in U. S. history, taking particularly strong stands on behalf of consumers and the elimination of environmental pollution.

Scott is a veteran of the Navy Air Corps, has served as an elder of the Presbyterian Church, and a trustee of Macmurray College in Jacksonville, and chairman of the Evanston March of Dimes.

He is a member of the Illinois and Federal Bar Associations and has been active in the Illinois Bankers Association and Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Stackler has varied government experience

Ronald E. Stackler, director of the Illinois Department of Registration and Education, is seeking the Democratic nomination as Illinois attorney general.

He was appointed to the DRE position in August 1974.

Since taking over the department, Stackler initiated measures to tighten testing procedures, improve security of licensing and strengthen enforcement of public protection, such as the law against unscrupulous real estate practices.

Under Stackler, the department brought in professional, outside testing services to administer and grade licensing examinations.

The professional testing most recently converted to an outside, impartial testing and grading service is the beauty culture examination, which will be administered by a commercial testing service.

Nineteen of the other 32 professions, including doctors, nurses and real estate brokers, have been converted to commercial testing services.

Stackler is an Illinois native, born in Chicago's Rogers Park area.

He graduated magna cum laude from Yale University and received his law degree from the University of Chicago.

Stackler was admitted to the Illinois State Bar in 1962 and served as law clerk to two federal judges in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. He then went into private law practice in Chicago.

In 1966, Stackler was named president of Wells Fargo Alarm Systems of Chicago, a subsidiary of Baker Industries.

From 1968 to 1973 he was a vice-president of Associated Pacific Real Estate Finance and of Heitman Mortgage Company.

In 1973, Governor Daniel Walker appointed Stackler assistant director of the Department of Insurance.

Stackler, 38, his wife, Barbara, and their two daughters live in Leland Grove. Jennifer, 14, attends Sacred Heart Academy and Leslie, 12, attends Benjamin Franklin Middle School.

GC woman charged

Esther Johnson, 54, of 3039 Sinclair Ave., was arrested last week by Granite City police who charged her with deceptive practices.

Figures for past year reflect sharp drop in steel shipments

In 1975, steel industry shipments reached their lowest annual total since 1963.

According to data of the American Iron and Steel Institute, mills in this country sent their customers 79,957,000 tons of finished steel during the year. This is comparable to 75,555,000 tons shipped to customers in 1963 and 109,472,000 tons in 1974, which was the second highest annual total in history.

During December 1975, domestic steel shipments rose after declining in the past two months. Domestic mills sent customers 6,071,000 tons of steel products during the month, compared to 5,703,000 tons in November and 7,353,000 tons in December 1974.

Steel service centers received the largest share of steel shipments, obtaining 1,246,000 tons of steel. After four months as the largest customer of steel, the automotive industry fell to second during the month, with shipments of 1,170,000 tons.

In 1975, steel shipments included 2,853,000 tons of steel exported to other countries.

During 1975, employment in the domestic steel industry declined 11 per cent from a year ago, as production and shipments dropped from the record levels of 1973 and 1974.

The average number of persons engaged in the production and marketing of steel during the past year was 457,200. This compares with 512,400 persons employed in 1974.

In December 1975, employees engaged in steel production and marketing numbered 431,600, a slight increase from November's total of 429,500 persons. Domestic steel producers paid out $608,229,000 in wages and salaries during December, bringing the total for 1975 to $7,446,280,000.

Total employment cost per hour for hourly employees was $11.20 in December 1975, compared with a $9.08 average for 1974, and a $10.59 average for all of 1975. This figure includes the costs of employment benefits, such as pensions, insurance and supplemental unemployment benefits; the non-payroll portion of savings and vacation plan costs; and legally required payroll taxes, which in 1975 averaged $2.28 per hour.

In 1975, imports accounted for 13.5 per cent of the U.S. domestic market for steel products, and the trade deficit in steel products exceeded $2.2 billion.

Steel imports in 1975 reached 12 million tons. Imports in 1974 totaled 16 million tons, and represented 13.4 per cent of domestic apparent consumption in that year.

The domestic market for specialty steels was affected with particular severity by imports in 1975.

Foreign producers took a larger portion of the U.S. market for stainless steels, even though total tonnage of stainless imports was down five per cent from 1974 totals.

In 1975, imports represented almost 20 per cent of the domestic market for stainless, compared to 12.7 per cent of the market in 1974.

Imports of tool steel actually increased in tonnage in 1975, compared to 1974, and took almost 29 per cent of the domestic tool steel market, compared to 19 per cent of the market in 1974.

Total imports of steel in 1975 finished the year on the rise again, with 1,153,000 tons entering the U.S. in December. This compares to 903,000 tons that entered in November and 818,000 tons in October. It was the highest monthly total since March 1975.

Sixteen pass police test

Sixteen of 19 eligible young men taking the Granite City Police Department's written test for probationary patrolmen candidates passed the test and will be interviewed Feb. 28, it was announced this week.

A total of 30 young men applied for the police testing and the number of eligible applicants was reduced to 19 during physical agility testing Feb. 7. The written test was given during the weekend.

The city's Board of Fire and Police Commissioners will establish an eligibility list following the Feb. 28 oral interviews and the list will be used to appoint one probationary patrolman, filling a vacancy in the department. A second vacancy is expected in the near future due to a retirement.

Federal grand jury study of clinical labs, doctors

Suspension of four clinical laboratories and five doctors from the Medicaid program by the Illinois Department of Public Aid this week followed an "intensive departmental investigation." The probe found fraudulent billing practices and illegal kickbacks from laboratories to doctors in return for their business, Director James L. Trainor said.

Public aid investigators and auditors also uncovered evidence that some doctors ordered unneeded tests and billed for treatment of patients never seen, and that some laboratories billed for tests never performed.

Public Aid Director Trainor said the department turned over evidence of possible fraud and collusion to the U.S. attorney on Jan. 22 for presentation to a federal grand jury.

He said 12 more laboratories as well as a number of other physicians, pharmacies, nursing homes and other medical providers are presently under investigation and/or audit by the department.

Total laboratory payments to the 250 laboratories eligible to participate in the state's Medicaid program were $12,325,567 during 1975. The four suspended laboratories received a total of $2,157,474 in public aid payments.

The Public Aid Department is also withholding more than $500,000 in payments for past bills from the suspended laboratories.

During the 1974-75 fiscal year, Medicaid expenditures in Illinois totaled $685,600,000 to 29,400 vendors that provide medical services to the state's more than 1,000,000 public aid recipients. Illinois receives 50 per cent federal matching funds for its Medicaid expenditures.

The investigation focused on laboratories following an inquiry to the department from CBS newsman Mike Wallace who was in Chicago in early January to film a "60 Minutes" segment on clinical laboratories aired early this week.

A special task force, consisting of 50 investigators, auditors and nurses was assembled to investigate allegedly unethical and illegal practices of independent laboratories. Task force members were re-assigned from other investigations to participate in the laboratory project.

The 12 laboratories currently under investigation and/or audit received $3,178,127 in Medicaid payments during 1975. The 1975 payments to these laboratories and the four suspended laboratories constitute 59 per cent of total Medicaid payments to all 250 laboratories participating in the program.

In addition, other previously completed laboratory audits, conducted by the department's staff, have located $484,000 in overpayments which have been or are in the process of being recovered, Trainor said.

As of Jan. 31, the Public Aid Department has suspended 11 physicians—five as a result of the laboratory investigation and six through "normal departmental reviews." These physicians collectively received $1,417,032 in Medicaid payments during 1975 or 1.3 per cent of the total payments made to all program physicians during 1975.

There are 13,837 physicians (excluding dentists, optometrists and chiropractors) eligible to participate in the Illinois Medicaid program.

Another 52 physician audits have been completed through normal departmental reviews that have discovered over $950,000 in overpayments. These overpayments, as well, have either been or are in the process of being recovered by the department, it was asserted.

Total amount of all recovery efforts by the department from physicians and laboratories is listed as $3,459,148.

At the onset of the investigation, computer printouts consisting of vendor, patient profiles and case details were generated for the preceding 18 months.

Investigators were assigned to interview recipients. Teams of auditors were dispatched to conduct on-site reviews of the targeted laboratories.

The auditors scrutinized all books and records, cash receipts and disbursements and conducted utilization reviews to pinpoint inconsistencies between laboratory tests ordered and doctors' diagnoses. Laboratory charges for private patients versus public aid patients also were compared.

Auditors conducted laboratory equipment audits and then measured the ability of the equipment to perform the volume of tests billed the department. They also determined whether the laboratories had, on their premises, the equipment necessary to perform the tests for which the department was billed.

Public aid investigators accompanied auditors and nurses during the on-site audits and reviews to collect the fiscal and medical data necessary to suspend the provider if that provider was engaging in illegal activities. They also talked to doctors utilizing the audited laboratories to determine whether the laboratory procedures were ordered by the physicians.

Recipients also were interviewed to determine whether they actually visited the physician and, if so, whether they submitted to the tests referred to the laboratories.

The department is continuing its efforts to determine the accuracy of payments of medical providers through computer surveillance, field audits, quality assistance studies and investigations.

3 area men named in felony informations

Three Quad-City men have been named in informations filed by the Madison County state's attorney's office on felony charges. Two other men also have been named in informations in other cases.

Informations may be used by the state's attorney instead of grand jury indictments to initiate proceedings in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

Rick Teller, 2105 Troy Ave., Madison, and David Dayton, 3033 Kirkpatrick Homes, were charged with armed robbery. They allegedly entered the home of Marie Johnson, 1101 Kirkpatrick Homes, early Jan. 2, and one man held a butcher knife to the victim's throat while the other ransacked and looted the home. A camera, a pendant and numerous other items were taken.

Teller also was named in two other informations charging armed robbery and burglary. He allegedly displayed a revolver and took about $60 from an employee at Jack-In-The-Box restaurant, 3330 Nameoki Road, Dec. 20, 1975.

An information also was filed against T. B. Young, 25, of 1017 Calhoun St., Venice, charging murder.

Young allegedly fatally shot Alexander Reed, 30, East St. Louis, Jan. 19 in Young's home. He has been held in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville in lieu of $200,000 bond.

Another information from the state's attorney's office alleges armed robbery by Richard J. "Big Man" Williams, 18, of 4080 Collinville Road, Collinsville. It is alleged Williams used a pistol to steal about $100 cash from an attendant at the Spartan Gas Station on Route 111 south of Route 160 in Ponton Beach, Dec. 31, 1975.

He was arrested at his home after the car believed used in the robbery was abandoned in Fairview Heights and was found to belong to Williams.

John Steven Harris, 32, St. Louis, was named in another information alleging burglary at the home of Madison County

County deaths drop in January

A total of 180 deaths occurring in Madison County during January was a reduction of 47 below the 221 deaths recorded in the same month in 1975, according to a vital statistics report by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

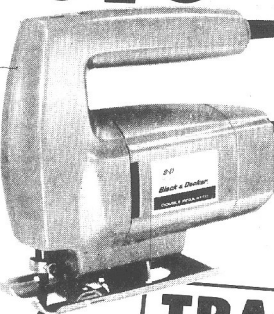

Marriages during January showed a slight increase over the same month a year ago, totaling 162 last month as compared with 160 in January 1975.

A total of 241 births was recorded last month, down nine from the 250 reported in January 1975. Births last month included 117 boys and 124 girls, compared with 115 boys and 135 girls born in January 1975. One set of twins was born last month, compared with none in January 1975.

Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Ford will on Peter Station Road in Collinsville in December 1975.

"HELPING YOU CHANGE THINGS FOR THE BETTER"

Many parents refuse to face the possibility that accident could leave their children dependent on others. Unpleasant though the thought may be, it is still up to you to provide for them until they are ready to stand on their own feet.

First off, determine which relative or friend would accept the responsibility of loving and caring for them. Then ask your attorney to draw a will specifying that individual. Consider too, naming us as Executor or Trustee to handle business affairs and give professional management to your estate. We are serving hundreds of others and will be honored to accept this trust from you. Call now (452-1313) to come in with your attorney and discuss details of this service. Our trust officers will be happy to place their experience at your disposal.
